WATER OFF 5 HOURS IN TWO AREAS

Shelby Hit By $70,000 Fire

City Hall Menaced By Blaze

Firemen Battle Flames 4 Hours

SHELBY — A $70,000 fire early today wrecked the 60-year-old Knights of Pythias building here and for a time threatened the adjoining Shelby city hall.

Firemen battled the blaze for nearly four hours. Fire companies from Mansfield, Crestline, the 831st Air Depot near here and Shelby were called. Firemen still were pouring water in the ruins at mid-morning.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started on the first floor of the Jewell Wallpaper store. The flames spread to the Ohio Fuel Gas company offices, also on the first floor, and then swept the two upper stories occupied by the Knights of Pythias.

The walls of the old structure were left standing, but the tar-covered roof collapsed about 5 a. m., carrying with it an old-fashioned belfry which was a landmark here for more than half a century.

Sparks from the fiercely-burning roof spread to the city hall's east side, but firemen quickly extinguished the spreading flames. As a precaution, workers removed all files from the city hall, which also contains the police station.

FILES DESTROYED

Ernest Jewell, owner of the Jewell store, said he was working in his store late last night, but origin of the fire was not determined. Jewell said that for the first time in his life, he left store files on his desk. The files were destroyed. Files from the OPS office were saved.

Treasurer C. L. Beal of the Knights of Pythias, owners of the brick building, estimated damage at approximately $60,000. Stock in the wallpaper store, Jewell said, was valued at $10,000. Losses were partially covered by insurance.

Mansfield's fire department dispatched a truck carrying Chief L. J. Steele and two men at 3:25 a. m. Icy highways delayed arrival of the truck, and the men did not return to Mansfield until nearly 7 a. m.

Terry Champion, night Shelby police officer, discovered the fire when he saw smoke curl into the station about 1:30 a. m.

Taft Moves To Nebraska

OMAHA, Neb. — (INS) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) carried his presidential campaign into bell-wether Nebraska today after a heartening reception in Minnesota, home state of candidate Harold E. Stassen.

Taft launched his bid for Nebraska's 15 GOP convention votes just two months to the day in advance of the Nebraska presidential primary—a free-for-all in which all candidates have been entered.

The Senate leader chose Omaha as the setting for two major speeches—one on farm policy and commodity prices, the other on liberalism.

A third Lincoln week address was to be made in nearby Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Like Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in Boston, Taft roundly criticized the administration's handling of foreign policy in a Lincoln day speech at St. Paul. Despite Minnesota's "first choice" support of Stassen, the Ohioan's views were warmly received.

Coroner Gives Suicide Ruling

PORTSMOUTH — (AP) — Officials wrote off the death of a 27-year-old mother and the wounding of her companion as "attempted murder and suicide" today.

Coroner Virgil Fowler returned that verdict last night in the death of Mrs. Mildred Rogers Harris.

Gaming Lid Still On In City

The gambling lid is still on in Mansfield.

A spot check late yesterday by News-Journal reporters showed that punchboards and fish bowls are still missing from cigar stores, restaurants and newsstands. The horse bookie on South Main street was still closed.

The ban was ordered two weeks ago under "mysterious" circumstances. Police Chief Jesse Schwab later said he had ordered the gambling devices out.

Chief Schwab said he was going to make the ban stick and would have his men make periodic checks.

He said the order applied to all types of gambling. He excluded bingo games operated by churches, lodges, or welfare groups.

SHERIFF WARNS

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson followed with a statement that there would be no shift of gambling to the outskirts of the city.

He and his deputies staged a raid last Friday night when they found 18 men and two women in a house on Louis street.

Six men and a woman were charged later in municipal court, the men drawing fines of $10 each. The woman was fined $100 and costs as the operator of the gambling house.

3 Frozen In Blizzard

FOWLER, Kan.—(INS)—Searchers said today that the discovery of an abandoned automobile led them to the frozen bodies of three young people who died while trying to reach shelter in the howling blizzard that swept this area Tuesday night.

Phyllis Moehler, 19, and her sister, Louise, 16, attended a community dance Tuesday. When the wind began to blow the heavy snow into huge drifts, Melvin Miller, 20, told friends he was going to take the Moehler girls to their farm home five miles away before the roads became impassable. They failed to reach home.

Neighbors joined in a search. They tramped through the flat, barren prairie in near-zero weather for two days before finding Miller's car, nearly buried in a huge drift.

Later they found the body of Phyllis near the Moehler mail box, 400 yards from her home. The body of her sister was found in a six-foot drift a quarter of a mile farther from the house. Miller's body was found another quarter of a mile away.

Falling Icicle Injures Youth

A large chunk of ice which broke loose from the roof of the Campbell Cocktail Lounge early last night, struck and injured Leroy Watkins jr., 13, 102 South Foster street, police reported today.

Watkins, who suffered a contusion of the right leg at the knee, was treated at General hospital and released.

Witness to the first falling ice accident reported in Mansfield this winter was a companion of Watkins, Carl Johnson, 182 East First street, who told police he and the injured boy were walking through the alley beside the cocktail bar when he noticed a large chunk of ice starting to fall from the roof. Johnson said he called to Watkins to get out of the way, but that Watkins slipped on ice underfoot and fell directly in the path of the falling chunk.

Country School Teacher Freezes

SAMUELS, Ida.—(U.P.)—A country teacher froze to death while trying to walk six miles on snowshoes to his schoolhouse, sheriff's officers said today.

The body of Edward Bradley, 42, Sandpoint, Ida., was found by police in an old farmhouse along the road. Officers said Bradley, teacher at the North Star rural school, apparently had frozen to death while asleep.

FIREMEN TO THE RESCUE—City firemen gave a bit of extra-curricular help today to thirsting Woodland and South Boulevards residents. They used fire department pumper engines to lift water into the South Boulevards' tower reservoir from where it flowed into homes that yesterday found spigots dry. Leo Jones (left) and Charles Hunt, firemen from station No. 1, check the pumper valve. They were members of the second shift of firemen assigned to the water-pumping task.—(News-Journal photo by George Petrovic)

Prices Show Irregularity

Corn Climbs After Slump

NEW YORK—(AP)—Prices were irregular in the commodity and security markets today after a one-day "breather" in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

Grains showed widely divergent tendencies. Corn swung down as much as the full limit at the start, but wheat and oat deliveries were steady to slightly higher. Corn prices subsequently came back from the lows.

Cotton fell almost $4 a bale at New York. Shortly after the opening, however, mills began buying and there was a rebound that brought the price about $2 above the lows at the start.

At New Orleans, cotton was $1.25 to $2.60 a bale lower.

Stocks were irregular and activity was moderate. Price changes were small.

At Chicago, sellers were holding hogs at about yesterday's prices of $23.75 to $24.25 a hundred pounds. The best bid shortly after the opening was $23.50.

The pits hardly more than opened at Chicago when soybeans were offered at the eight cent limit decline from Wednesday's prices.

The question in economic and political circles was whether the problem was inflation or deflation.

British Roll Back Prices

LONDON—(U.P.)—Great Britain today launched into a drastic program of rolling prices back to their December-January level for manufacturers and fixing profit margins for distributors and retailers.

The British anti-inflationary measure was announced in Commons last night by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, in answer to workers' demands for strict price control in lieu of wage increases.

Cripps said a government order freezing manufacturers prices at the year end levels would be issued by Board of Trade President Harold Wilson as soon as possible. Authoritative sources said this would be two weeks.

Rain Freezes on Streets

Ice Coating Stalls Mansfield Traffic

Freezing rain which formed an ice coating over the Mansfield area early today stalled traffic in the city. Bus and air travel was halted. City buses were running late.

Icing conditions were eased later in the morning as the mercury climbed above freezing.

Lucas schools were closed until noon when buses were unable to travel their routes.

Yet Killed By Gunman

CLEVELAND — (AP) — One of four gunmen who attempted to rob an east side cafe last night shot and killed a 29-year-old war veteran.

The body of Paul Cenciel was found face down on the floor of his bedroom in his apartment over the Light Lunch cafe.

Police said he had a bullet wound in his back. A fully loaded clip of a German Luger pistol was in his hand, and the gun was near him.

Detectives said Cenciel and his wife, Millie, 27, were playing cards with Mrs. Cenciel's mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Victoria Solpa, 53, and Mrs. Eva Solpa, 30, in the kitchen of an apartment in the rear of the cafe.

The gunmen entered shortly after Cenciel had gone upstairs to put on a sweater.

One of the gunmen ran upstairs and entered Cenciel's bedroom. Mrs. Victoria Solpa said she heard the man say, "I'm going to shoot you," followed by a shot.

Following the shooting the four fled empty-handed apparently in an automobile.

Scholarships Offered

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers will award 10 new 1948 scholarships providing $200 annually for teacher training in accredited colleges, Fund Chairman O. E. Hill, schools superintendent of Upper Arlington, O., reported today.

TWA officials here said all flights throughout this section of the state had been cancelled and planes grounded at their home ports. Low ceilings, caused by drizzling rain, were blamed.

City street crews went into action at 6 a. m., manning all salt spreaders to help relieve icy conditions on Mansfield streets.

Many early-risers waited patiently on street corners for buses which ran from 20 to 30 minutes late in out-lying sections of the city.

BUSES HALTED

Spokesmen for the Greyhound bus lines said eastbound runs were held up more than four hours this morning; that westbound traffic was held up at Wooster and that the regular 9:20 run from Columbus was cancelled.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said six trucks spread salt and cinders last night and early today, but that most of the roads were in good condition, due to rising temperatures and a supply of salt and chloride which remained from other slippery days.

The ice was blamed for an accident involving a Mansfield Rapid Transit bus and a small truck this morning on Hedges street. No one was injured. Bus firm spokesmen said the truck, driven by Franklin Scheuerman, Berea, skidded into the rear of the bus.

Flash Fire Kills 11 In Family

Firemen Find Six Bodies

UTICA, N. Y. — (AP) — Eleven members of one family perished today in a flash fire that swept a two-story frame dwelling in Utica's west side.

Six bodies were recovered by firemen from the smoking ruins. Four were children. One was a woman, clasping an infant.

Victims included Mrs. Ruth Hoage and nine children ranging in age from five months to 19 years. Mrs. Hoage was the second wife of Richard Hoage, 48.

Fourteen scantily clad persons fled from the building, Fire Chief Leo Barry said. Dana Paye sr., his wife and 19-year-old daughter were hospitalized with burns after jumping from a second floor window.

The walls of the long, ramshackle building, in Cedar street, near the New York Central railroad tracks, collapsed before most of the second floor occupants who had been asleep could get out.

HEAT INTENSE

The ruins blazed fiercely for only a short time, but the intense heat delayed the firemen's search for bodies.

The list of dead, compiled by Capt. Eugene McNally of the fire prevention bureau, included Mrs. Ruth Hoage, 24, and Mrs. Shirley Hoage, 29, and these children:

Virginia, 19; Dana, 3; Mark, eight months; Catherine, two; Geraldine, 10; Audrey, five, Charity, seven; Michael, 11 months, and Lee, five months. Mrs. Shirley Hoage was the wife of an older son of Richard Hoage.

Mary Hoage, 13, who jumped from a second story porch into a snow bank, said other members of her family were huddled in one room waiting for rescue when the building collapsed. Her father, Richard, was at work in a garage.

The eleven persons who reached safety without apparent injury stood weeping at the ruins while firemen searched.

Wedding Set At Midnight

PALM BEACH, Fla.—(INS)—The story of a real life Cinderella and the handsome prince who loved her for herself, was approaching its happy climax today at a palatial Palm Beach estate.

And, just as in the fairy tale, beautiful Barbara Sears, the blond daughter of Lithuanian immigrants, will be married at midnight to America's most eligible bachelor, Winthrop Rockefeller, an heir to the fabulous Rockefeller oil empire.

This was Mrs. Sears' second march to the altar. The first occurred when she was married to Richard Sears, of a socially prominent Boston family, seven years ago in Washington, D. C. The marriage terminated in divorce last October, in Reno.

Fifty members of the bluest bloods of Palm Beach, New York and other social strongholds have been invited to the wedding and reception.

Draftee Asks For $10,000

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A Wooster member of Jehovah's Witnesses, denied exemption from armed service as a minister, wants $10,000 damages.

George W. Dodez, whose conviction for draft law violation was set aside by the U. S. Supreme court, filed suit yesterday in U. S. district court against members of two Ohio selective service boards.

Dodez' petition said he was put in class 1-A Nov. 30, 1942, after he had shown he was a "duly ordained minister of religion" as a leader of the Jehovah's Witnesses in Wooster. Dodez said he appealed to the board in Akron, but was placed in class 4-3, conscientious objectors.

MAN AND WIFE KILLED

BARBERTON —(AP)— George Gugy, 67, and his wife, Julia, 59, were killed last night when struck by an automobile on Norton avenue.

Supply Fails In Woodland, S. Boulevards

Hundreds of families in the Woodland and South Boulevards areas were without water for five hours last night when the 150,000-gallon supply in the Woodland water tower was exhausted.

O. C. Kalbfleisch, superintendent of the Mansfield waterworks department, revealed today that the lack of water was brought about by accidental damage to the end of the water line at the former site of the Treisch well Wednesday afternoon, causing the level of water in the Woodland reservoir to drop. When this level dropped, the automatic pumps which fill the tower were cut out.

Working through the night with the fire department's 1,000-gallon pumper, Kalbfleisch said, the tower tank was being refilled and pressure in the area was nearly back to normal this morning. Firemen will have to continue work until this evening before the reservoir water level rises to a point where the automatic pumps can operate.

Meanwhile Mayor Roy W. Vaughn early today contacted all industry in Mansfield and requested their co-operation in conserving water for domestic consumers.

Mayor Vaughn, Safety-Service Director E. L. Morgan and Sanitary Engineer B. V. ReVier conferred this noon on possibilities of speeding work on a new pumping station and pipe line scheduled to be built in connection with the Clear Fork reservoir water expansion program.

Morgan said that the officials were considering any means possible for taking emergency action to head off a recurrence of a situation which again might endanger the vital supply of water for the city.

FULL BY MONDAY

He estimated that with present pumping facilities Woodland reservoir can be filled by Monday morning, and that the city will then be in a position to maintain a water supply even though another breakdown should occur and tie up pumps for as long as six hours.

Most Woodland area residents were forced to dine out when only a few drops of water trickled from fully-opened faucets.

More resourceful ones reported they melted down ice cubes for drinking water. Area most severely affected was the Woodhill road and Brae Burn section.

As word of the shut-off spread to neighboring areas worried housewives filled milk bottles and cooking utensils with water fearing the low pressure would affect them.

UNEXPECTED

Kalbfleisch said today that the damage to the line Wednesday afternoon had not been expected to cause a depletion of supplies in the Woodland reservoir and that residents in that area had not previously been notified to conserve water.

The accident occurred Wednesday around 4 p. m. after OPS men turned on the current after

It's Friday, The 13th, So Beware

Today is Friday, the thirteenth. And right from taw, it has been an unlucky one, with sleet and ice making travel hazardous and walking nearly as dangerous. Perhaps it was just such a day as this in the dim dark ages which made the old Greeks and Romans place the stigma of 'unlucky' on all Fridays, the thirteenth, regardless of whether they arrive in February or July.

More modern folk scoff at the theory that any date is more unlucky than others and suggest that accidents which happen on Friday, the thirteenth, are purely coincidental.

Seriously, Friday has often been considered an unfortunate day, partly because the crucifixion of Christ took place on a Friday, and historians trace the common belief that Friday is unlucky to that event.

Grand Jury Session Called

A special session of the Richland county grand jury was called today for 10 a. m., Monday. The jurors will hear first-degree murder charges against Clarence Greer, 31, of 203 East Fourth street.

The grand jury which met for four days in late January, was reconvened by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

The jury may at the same time investigate other matters. Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said. Greer pleaded guilty in municipal court to the shotgun killing of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and Ezell Taylor, 35, last Monday morning.

Bread Price Fix Charged By Merchant

Mansfield Grocer Sues For $25,000

A $25,000 "battle of bread prices" is before common pleas court today.

Carl Sternbaum, owner of a Mansfield food market bearing his name, late yesterday filed suit for that amount against three large baking companies. He charged they combined in a move aimed at forcing him to discontinue selling bread at 17 cents a loaf, a penny a loaf below the price prevailing in other stores supplied by the companies.

The action was filed against Continental Baking company, 316 North Mulberry street; Alfred Nickles Baking, Inc., 194 Park avenue east, and Ward Baking company, Paradise View.

Sternbaum in his petition charges the companies with acting in restraint of trade and violating the Ohio Valentine act. He is represented by Attorney Marshall C. Moore.

RELATES PRICE CUT

Sternbaum says that prior to Sunday he sold bread supplied by the three companies at 18 cents a loaf but had entered into no contract with the companies to sell the bread at a minimum price.

On Monday, he says, he reduced the price to 17 cents. The following day, his petition charges, representatives of Continental and Nickles notified him that unless he discontinued the 17-cent price and returned to the 18-cent level they would discontinue supplying him with bread.

Until Wednesday, he related, those companies delivered bread to his store between 8 and 8:15 a. m. The Ward company made its delivery no later than 10:30 a. m. Whereas his regular Wednesday

Wheat Growers Can't Figure It Out

Price Break Perplexes Kansas Farmers

GARDEN CITY, Kas.—(AP)—Kansas wheat farmers looked across snow-covered fields with puzzled frowns today as they sought to fathom the cause for the sudden skid in commodity prices.

In wheat field interviews, the grain growers pointed to continued high demand for wheat and prospects of only a fair 1948 yield as reasons for their inability to understand the week-long market plunge.

But there were no signs of a stampede by the producers to dump their holdings.

The consensus seemed to be everything will work out all right—if other prices come down accordingly.

John Boyd of near Garden City said he didn't "like it, but we'll tighten our belts."

Dewitt Craft, another Garden City operator, said farmers haven't been thrown into panic.

"We've taken enough in paper losses out here to build all the schools and hospitals Garden City needs, but we're still riding with the wheat," he said. "If other prices follow wheat down, we won't object."

Ellsworth Sherman, who farms near here, expressed belief a "big raid was on" to "discredit the western Kansas farmer."

"This past year they've tried to make all western Kansas farmers look like millionaires and they're overplaying their hand."

The price break was described by Fred Beck, of Reno county, as "a heavy jolt."

"But," he added, "I believe the price will go up again. It doesn't make sense. Next year's crop doesn't look too good, and frankly, I'm pessimistic over it."

President Favors Price Controls Despite Grain Break

Price Drop Nips Chance For Action

Top GOP Leaders Voice Disapproval

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman still thinks the country needs price controls in spite of the severe break in the grain market.

The word from Republican leaders in Congress today is he still has little chance of getting them.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) of the House Banking committee went even further. He said Congress may have to start thinking about ways to keep prices from going too far down.

And two GOP senators—Young (ND) and Bushfield (SD)—asked Congress to repeal a two month old law which they say helped cause the commodity slide. That law specifies there can be no further wheat exports once reserve supplies in this country drops to 150,000,000 bushels.

Wolcott took the view that there will be no harm if Congress waits a couple of weeks to think over the anti-inflation picture before it acts.

He listed one exception: rent control. That should be extended for one month beyond Feb. 29, the date the present law expires, Wolcott told newsmen. Meanwhile, he added, Congress could consider a longer extension.

Wolcott said a two weeks' ban on discussion of other proposals would "let us see where the economy is headed."

"We cannot legislate on economic questions until we know what is happening," he continued. "If this (price decline) goes too far we may have to give our thought to supporting markets."

But Mr. Truman responded with a positive yes when a reporter at his news conference late yesterday asked him whether the major economic problem facing the country is still inflation, and not deflation.

Furthermore, the chief executive said flatly that the market break has not lessened the need for the economic program he outlined to Congress Nov. 17.

Hill Couple Weds After Honeymoon

MT. STERLING, Ky. —(U.P.)— A couple from the Kentucky hills was legally married here today but not until after they had returned from their honeymoon.

It was on Feb. 5 that the couple applied to Ben H. Scott, Montgomery county clerk, for a wedding license. Scott said the couple had completed their blood tests and he gave them the license. They paid the $5 fee.

"Three days later after their honeymoon they returned," Scott said. It was then the groom asked him, "Aren't you supposed to have a part of this to keep as a record?"

Then with a surprised look on his face, Scott queried, "Who married you." "Didn't you?" puzzled the groom.

Scott hurriedly called in County Judge Thomas Grubbs, who performed the ceremony.

The couple, whom Scott refused to identify, returned to their home in the hills, still unaware their first "marriage" was illegal.

Teacher Talks At Session

Mrs. Ralph Lowry, visiting teacher for Mansfield public schools, told members of the Mansfield Federation of Teachers last night of her work with pupils in the city.

Mrs. Lowry is one of two visiting teachers who work in cooperation with J. H. Eisaman, attendance officer. The other is Miss Helen Joyce.

Mrs. Lowry said that most cases to come under her jurisdiction are referred to the principals and through them to the teachers. Following her talk, there was a general discussion of the best means by which Mansfield teachers could cooperate.

Reports were given by Ensil McNab, who had made a recent survey of professional problems: W. B. Huber, on legislation and Ralph Juniper, who told of the attempts to form a mathematics council.

Refreshments were served by Miss Dorothy Scheidler and Miss Marilyn Eckstein, both Hedges school teachers. The meeting was at the YMCA.

Brownies Hold Party

Brownies of Troop 46 held a Valentine party at Newman school last night under direction of their leaders, Mrs. Philip Lodge and Mrs. Walter McEvoy. The girls had baked cookies and made cookie jars from oatmeal boxes and decorated them with Valentine hearts. As favors, the Brownies made necklaces of red ribbon and tiny candy hearts.

Water Off 5 Hours In Two Areas

Woodland, South Boulevards Hit

repairing lines. When the current came on and pumps started in again, water surged through the lines so swiftly that a fitting was blown off the end of the line at the former site of the Treisch well.

Water poured out underground. The level of the reservoir was further lowered when workmen had to shut off the pumps a second time in order to repair the damage. The pumps were off for more than three hours.

Yesterday, constant, ordinary usage lowered the already sunken level of water in the Woodland reservoir to about four feet.

Woodland residents are supplied from the 150,000 gallon water tower and pumps from the reservoir fill the tower as soon as it gets below a certain point.

NEED 6-FOOT LEVEL

However, Kalbfleisch said today, that the pumps work only when the water level in the reservoir is six feet or more.

An emergency call brought the Central Station's 1,000 gallon pumper and two men out at 10 p. m. yesterday, and they worked through the night pumping from the main supply into the standpipe.

Constant pumping has built up the supply in the water tower and hiked up pressure to the normal 43 pounds.

The water level in Woodland reservoir was five and a half feet this morning. Kalbfleisch said it was expected to reach six feet this evening when the automatic pumps will come on.

Two Granted Probation

Roosevelt Thomas, 556 Lily street, charged with carrying concealed weapons, pleaded guilty today and was placed on probation for five years by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Thomas was apprehended Nov. 2 in the Veterans Cab office by Mansfield police, who said Thomas had a loaded .25-caliber automatic gun on his person. He was represented by Attorney George W. Biddle.

Estill Walton of Shelby pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. He was placed on probation for five years and ordered transferred to the probation department of Stark county. Walton was represented by Attorney Lydon H. Beam.

Miller to Visit Mansfield Saturday

Ray T. Miller of Cleveland, who seeks the Democratic nomination for governor, will meet with Democrats of Richland county between 2 and 5 p. m. Saturday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. He is a former mayor of Cleveland.

Winners In Essay Contest Revealed By American Legion

The winning essays in a Richland county contest sponsored by the American Legion will be sent to a state committee for competition with school children throughout the state, it was announced today.

Cash prizes of $5, $3, and $1 will be presented to county winners as soon as arrangements for presentation programs can be made.

County winners are:

Ninth grade—Willard Pryor, Johnny Appleseed junior high school, and Janice Dorsey, (St. Peter's; second prize, John E. Pierce, Appleseed, and Joan Christmas, John Simpson; third prize, Fred Pryor, Appleseed, and Marie Phillips, John Simpson.

Tenth grade—Alan Sapp, Union Rural high school, and Beverly Hunt, Madison high; second prize, Paul Cashell, Madison, and Colleen Smith, Madison; third prize, Norman Hughes, Madison, and Joyce Reichert, Senior high.

Eleventh grade—Robert Clouse and Nancy Sorenson, both of Senior high; second prize, Charles Brown and Barbara Garn of Senior high; third prize, Richard Flood, St. Peter's, and Ura Ann Lantz, Union.

Twelfth grade—Joseph Peters, St. Peter's, and Carol Jean Ross, Senior high; second prize, Don Burkholder and Mary Meyers, Union; third prize, John Leppert, Senior high, and Emily Campbell, Madison.

NLRB Calls Election

Two hundred and 85 employes of the Barnes Manufacturing company will vote next Friday on whether they will affiliate with the International Association of Machinists, AFL.

The election was ordered by the National Labor Relations board which certified the 285 employes of the firm as eligible to vote on the proposal.

Meanwhile, Fed B. Hout, vice president in charge of sales at the plant, said letters have been distributed to all employes, emphasizing an 18-point employe program now in force.

Excerpts from the letter read: "Barnes is a truly democratic industrial plant where all employes are free at any time to bring their troubles to the front office . . . where physical working conditions are ideal . . . where going rates are paid and wage increases given in excess of the so-called 'national pattern.'

"We (the company) sincerely and earnestly believe that this can best be maintained without the intervention of a third party."

Fox Hunter Takes to Air

LONDON—(AP)—Percy O. Harbage get his foxes. The 49-year-old farmer, who won the North American handicap championship at the Vandalia trapshoot nine years ago, takes to the air rather than following them with horse and hound.

Harbage turned in the feet of 25 foxes this week and collected $75 in bounty. This brought his total to 79 since 1945, when Madison county first started paying a bounty.

His method is to drive to nearby Columbus, rent a plane with pilot, and take out over the flat Madison county fields.

Dentists Check 936 Children

Nine hundred and 36 Mansfield public school children were examined for dental defects last month by attending dentists of the Mansfield Dental Clinic association.

The association's January report showed that 30 of those examined, including Hedges school children and pupils of the Sight-Saving school at West Fifth, needed orthodonic work.

Thirty-four children were given treatment during the eight clinic days held in January.

Work done included 29 fillings and 16 extractions. Eight dentists attended for a total of 18 hours and four cases were completed.

Goes to Columbus

Rev. Floyd Eckert, pastor of the Pavonia charge, was to be taken to White Cross hospital, Columbus, this afternoon for observation. Rev. Eckert was admitted to General hospital here the first of the week for X-rays and observation.

Bread Price Fix Charged

delivery from Continental had been 84 loaves, his suit contends, only 10 loaves were delivered on Wednesday of this week and those did not arrive until noon. His usual Wednesday delivery of 45 to 50 loaves from Nickles was cut this week to 15 loaves which were received about 12:30 p. m.

CLAIMS DAMAGES

The Ward company, Sternbaum charges, delivered 64 loaves on Wednesday but about 4 p. m. a Ward representative informed him that beginning Thursday, Ward would deliver only six to eight loaves a day unless he increased the price to 18 cents.

The suit charges that both Continental and Nickles explained the reduced and later deliveries as due to rerouted deliveries.

As a rsult, Sternbaum says, numerous regular customers stopped trading at his store. He charges that the banking companies sought to force him to increase the bread price and had sought to injure his business by inducing other bakers not to sell him bread.

He estimates the damage to his business at $12,500 and says that under the law he is entitled to two-fold that sum or $25,000.

'New Look' Shows Up In City Schools

'Boxed Ears' Era Passes From Scene

Classrooms Reflect Changing Trend

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on changing methods in Mansfield public schools.)

By ANN RICKABAUGH

The rule of boxed ears and raps on the knuckles is disappearing from Mansfield classrooms.

Times have changed and so have the city's schools.

When you think about it, a constant revision of educational methods is just as natural as the acceptance of scientific progress.

But parents and teachers sometimes balk at new educational methods. Some of the isolated extremes of "progressive" education have given ordinary progress in education a bad name.

Educators are taking special pains to familiarize parents with modern elementary teaching methods, many of which are in sharp contrast to obsolete techniques in vogue a quarter century ago. Because parents are baffled they are inclined to feel that present-day methods are inferior to those used in years gone by.

The Parent-Teacher association which puts parents and teachers on an informal level, helps take the edge off these misunderstandings.

Recently L. L. Mishey, supervisor of elementary education in Mansfield, organized some discussion groups among the teachers, to sort out and explain some of the changes.

HOLD GROUP SESSIONS

The teachers, divided into three groups, discussed elementary school programs. Presiding over the first group, taking up the first and second-grade programs, was J. M. Clark, principal of the Western Avenue school. Participating were Miss Reba Robinson, Newman school; Miss Barbara Smythe, Brinkerhoff school; Miss Clara A. Patton, West Fifth street school, and Mrs. Fern Falk, Prospect school.

The second group talked over the third and fourth grades. Raymond R. Dent, principal of Bushnell school, was in charge of the discussion. In the group were Miss Emily Palmer, Brinkerhoff school; Miss Thelma Ringgenberg, Carpenter school; Miss Margaret Wadsworth, Woodland school and Miss Marie Hoover, Newman school.

Then came a discussion of the affairs of fifth and sixth grades under the leadership of W. W. Blauser, principal of West Fifth street school. Miss Florence White, Bowman school; Miss Leona Miles, Western avenue school, and Mrs. Catherine Croushore, Hedges school, joined in the discussion.

The result? An explanation of new methods, new ideas, a chronological review of how the beginning student learns and what he learns.

Out of the discussions also came the answers to many of the questions that come from parents. Why do some children learn to read late? Do they give the children enough practice in fundamentals? Does modern teaching give the children enough of the three R's?

Twenty or 30 years ago when the parents of today's learning tots fumbled over their shoelaces and toddled off to school, the aim of education was a simple one: to get readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic into their heads with no funny business.

Teachers in Mansfield today haven't tossed out the three R's, but they have extended the goal to include understanding, timeliness, and the incorporation of moral, emotional and physical growth into the academic day.

Schools are trying to give the child room to make adjustments, physically, mentally, and emotionally.

More individual attention, tests to determine mental age, periodic health examinations, the development of interests, and the merging of out-of-school interests with activities—these are aids in education now.

Ashland Junior Skaters To Compete For Prizes

ASHLAND—Weatherman permitting, Ashland junior skaters will compete for prize ribbons Sunday afternoon at Brookside park pond, where the Ashland Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Junior Winter Olympics.

Seibert Kastan, chairman of the Jaycee youth welfare committee, has announced the Olympics will be open to all young people of the city and county between 10 and 18 years of age.

An 800-meter race for boys will feature the affair, this race to be open to winners of a 150-meter race, one for boys from ten to 14, another for boys from 14 to 18.

Events will include a 50-meter race for boys from 14 to 18; a 50 meter race for girls from ten to 14; a 50 meter race for boys from ten to 14; 50-meter race for girls from 14 to 18; a mixed race for skaters under ten; a partner skating event for girls; fancy skating demonstrations for children under ten and another for girls between ten and 18; distance jumping for boys, with the 800-meter event closing the program.

Entrants are to mail an entry blank with their parents' signed consent in order to enter the events.

Ashland Joins FM Network

ASHLAND — Believed to be the start of Ohio's first FM network, Ashland FM station WATG is completing plans to rebroadcast programs from station WELD at Columbus, a 50,000-watt station which was the first OHIO FM station.

Equipment for the rebroadcasting includes additional antenna now being installed. The first rebroadcast will be a part of the Ohio State-Illinois basketball game Saturday night. Because of previous local commitments, the entire game cannot be broadcast.

Other games to be rebroadcast here will include the Ohio State-Wisconsin game Feb. 16 and the Ohio State-Indiana game Feb. 23.

Dinner Plans Made

SHELBY — Plans are being made by the Women's Benefit association, Review No. 52, for a dinner meeting to be held Feb. 21 at the Knights of Pythias hall. The dinner will be open to the public.

GALION—Three Galion church groups met here yesterday for business and social sessions.

A musical program featured the meeting of the Ladies' Aid society at Peace Lutheran parish house Thursday afternoon.

Included were a piano number played by Barbara Haspeslagh; flute selection, Eileen Tracht; and numbers by a vocal trio, composed of Mrs. A. L. Beach, Mrs. Robert Kuenzli, and Mrs. Howard Self, with Mrs. R. M. Pounder at the piano.

Business was conducted by Mrs Lawrence H Neumann, and devotions were led by Rev. Philip E. Auer At the close of the meeting, a lunch was served by Mrs C A. Mackey, Mrs. H F. Haspeslagh, Mrs H W. Yunker and Miss Laura Petri

The February meeting of the Woman's guild of the Church of Christ was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs F. E Arndt.

For the business period, Mrs. William Gifford was in charge, and also led devotions. The missionary topic was presented by Mrs. W. R. Ellis. A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed. Next month, Mrs. D. A. Weir will be hostess.

A memorial service for eight department members was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Korb when the W. S. C. S. met at First Methodist church Thursday.

A short business session was in charge of the president, Miss Clara Garverick, and devotions were led by Mrs W. E. Taylor. At the conclusion of the session, the moving picture, "The Deep South," was shown.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE SIX — MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1948

One difficulty, in a slow downward trend of prices, is to recognize the point at which they become "reasonable."

Instead of customary procedure, inflation has brought on a condition in which some people are "falling behind with the Joneses."

Forty thousand dollars is reported missing from the rifled safe of a Girard, Kas., firm that publishes 5-cent books—revealing that enough nickels make a lot of money.

Speculation That Enriches a Few

DIVESTED of its political implications, there's a nice point of ethics involved in that speculative coup by which E. T. Maynard, described as an "adroit Chicago trader," profited by anywhere from $200,000 to $400,000 in the early stages of plummeting commodity markets.

Whether he "made" $200,000 or $400,000, or more, is inconsequential in consideration of HOW he made it—and it is on this point that a question may be raised as to the legitimacy of what is obviously large scale gambling in essential commodities, in which some men make unworked-for millions while others, as the saying goes, "lose their shirts."

It seems quite likely, in the juggling process, that consumers of the commodities in which speculation runs rampant, are the eventual victims of manipulations which require constant surveillance in order to prevent chicanery, and it may be wondered if such exhibitions of "free enterprise" may not become detrimental to a system which is designed to contribute to the general welfare rather than to enrich a few "adroit traders."

Observing World Day of Prayer

ENTRY into the Lenten season has close association with today's observance of World Day of Prayer, in which millions of people in sixty countries join in what becomes a 40-hour period of uninterrupted prayer that encircles the globe.

The faith which establishes belief in efficacy of prayer is so widespread as to encompass practically all religions, and the thoughts that inspire prayer might well be expected to have a unifying effect which would not only bring freedom from war, but freedom, also, from racial and religious prejudice, bigotry and hatred.

Then, too, in a nation which proclaims on its coinage, "In God We Trust," the governmental course might be expected to be in closer accord with that declaration, instead of sometimes seeming to be totally oblivious of any of the teachings of religion and to be under guidance of an opposing force.

It cannot be doubted that prayers for world peace will dominate today's pleas to a Divine Power, and if co-operative deeds accompany the words, much can be gained by this day's observance, and by extension of such evidence of faith through the Lenten season—and afterward.

No 'Simplicity' In Present Setup

FREQUENTLY, the presidency of the United States is referred to as a rather poor-paying job. Indeed, $75,000 does not seem like a great deal of money compared with the responsibility of the position—particularly after deductions for taxes.

However, one point is generally overlooked. The actual amount voted by Congress for the president in the 1949 fiscal year is not $75,000 but $1,975,312. Out of this the president pays 317 White House employes.

Here are a few: six engineers, six carpenters, a painter, four electricians, eight gardeners, three plumbers, a storekeeper, a messenger, a housekeeper, seven housemen, five butlers, seven cooks, four doormen, four maids, and three laborers. These people confine their duties to running the executive mansion and caring for the grounds.

In the White House office Mr. Truman will have 224 other employes not counting three $10,000-a-year secretaries, six $10,000-a-year administrative assistants, and various coordinators, analysts, etc.

Herbert Hoover got along with a White House staff of 77 as compared with Mr. Truman's 317, but that, of course, was before the days of the 60-cent dollar and the payroll tax.

Avoid Danger To Young Children

PARENTS of young children can scarcely fail to be disturbed by the item in yesterday's News-Journal which told of the death of a two-year-old child in Lexington as the result of swallowing some pills that had been left within her reach.

This is among the dangers of childhood which should not be disregarded by parents, and it cannot be overemphasized that all medicines, poisons, and the like, be carefully kept out of reach of young children—and even older ones who may be inclined to carelessness.

It makes the middle-aged feel old to read that Alice Longworth, who has just broken her arm, is 63. When her father Theodore Roosevelt was president, she was young and gay. She is still gay, and no one would think of her as elderly. But time passes!

Clyde Moore, Ohio State Journal paragrapher, also notices: "No one gets less sympathy than the person who comes back from Florida and complains he nearly froze while down there."

An item from Lansing, Mich., tells about a dog chewing its way out of a vacant house—and wherever there's a vacant house, that makes news.

Claude Callan warns: "Relatives visiting us from this day forward must bring their own food. In fact, they might just as well stay at home."

Word comes that the Swiss are planning to freeze their cost of living—and their climate seems just right for it.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

New Political Weapons For Republicans

THE ECONOMIC consequences of the new look at the grain situation are already appearing. The political consequences cannot be far behind.

Republican leaders in Congress are inutterably relieved. A month ago they were facing the consequences of ignoring the President's request for a restoration of controls. If they had persisted in refusing to grant new powers to the President and prices had continued to rise, the political outlook by April would have been bad.

A wave of strikes would have been inevitable, which would have stripped the Taft-Hartley Act of credit for greater industrial peace. A tax cut could have been attacked by Democrats as fuel on the fire of inflation.

With high prices the major worry of Americans, the summer and fall would ring with Democratic denunciations of the Republicans who destroyed the O. P. A. and frustrated a hard-pressed President's struggle for the little man.

Now, for the time being at least, the shoe is on the other foot. To change the figure, Republican hopes, as well as a good wheat crop, are growing under the snow of a hard winter.

The great error of the International Emergency Food Council and of the administration in estimating the world exportable grain surplus at 29,000,000 tons is now apparent to everyone. Even the I. E. F. C. admits a surplus of 32,000,000 tons, and the real figure is probably nearer 34,000,000.

The great bull market in grains was clearly due to the government's assurance that the lower figure was correct. The President's learned Council of Economic Advisers apparently failed to advise the President in time.

The speculators whom the President called "wicked" are either losing their shirts or are bringing lower prices to the housewife. And high on the beach after the tide is the memory of the members of the administration who themselves sought an honest penny in the market. The administration which was denouncing high prices is now rushing support for prices.

* * *

Will Require Revision.

ALL the political possibilities in this changed situation will be eagerly exploited by Republicans. And it may be that, among the Republican candidates, Taft will gain most from the change in conditions. His various replies to the President can be reviewed with credit.

The economic consequences are bound to be far-reaching. There is a chain reaction to such a break which can hardly be charted in advance, because so much depends not upon mathematics but on public psychology. Both in the United States and abroad, people are asking whether this is the beginning of a great depression.

There is one consequence, however, which applies to government and the respective strategies of the parties. If things continue to level off, even short of a real recession, the national income will come down.

This might well justify a considerable revision of the estimated size of the treasury surplus. That means that Senate Republicans must consider very seriously the size of a tax reduction program.

It also means that, while our dollars will buy more relief for Europe, the total size of the Marshall expenditures will be considered with greater care. This present decline does not, of course, lessen Europe's need, but it affects our total capacity to meet that need.

How Skepticism Starts

By THOMAS L. STOKES

ON TOUR with Senator Taft—Senator Taft invited this.

In a speech at Chicago to the Inland Daily Press association on his present midwestern tour, the Ohio senator and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination delivered a critique of the press.

It was not inordinately severe, it is true; not perhaps without some foundation, either, and certainly not as sweeping as some frequently pronounced by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was by way of introduction to a defense of his own profession, the politicians who, as he sees it, seem to be special and particular game for the newspapers. It may be significant of some new Republican "party line." For it is noted that Speaker of the House Joe Martin (R-Mass.) also has been busy in recent speeches smelling out a "plot" to discredit Congress—now under Republican management—in which he includes some unnamed persons in both press and radio.

Is somebody getting sensitive, or what's coming off?

But, back to Senator Taft, and back at Senator Taft.

In his remarks, he said:

"Newspapermen are natural-born skeptics, and they are probably a little more skeptical about politicians than anybody else, so I am glad of this opportunity of defending those who are concerned with the conduct of our national government." (This last, as the context showed, meant only Republicans in charge of Congress and clearly not President Truman in charge of the executive branch, since Mr. Taft himself showed no mercy for the President.)

* * *

Causes of Skepticism.

HAVING known far more newspapermen than Senator Taft, and known them at much closer range, it is perhaps permitted for this newspaperman to say that newspapermen are not "natural born" anything, any more than other people. More of them are perhaps natural-born idealists and "softies" than anything else. They do achieve a cynicism and skepticism as a sort of protective shell and display it in their private conversation, so that it is a stock attribute in books and plays.

But what skepticism they acquire, in the senator's sense, is from intimate contact with the people who govern, including politicians, whether it be in city, state or nation. Perhaps they see the ruling caste in government, business and finance too closely.

They are skeptical because they see injustice and not too much done about it; because they see poverty and ignorance and too little done about that, or because they see, as some of us did a few years back, a great depression and quite a time getting anything done about that.

Or, as today, because they see how big special interests are moving in on the Republican Congress and getting what they want to the detriment of the rest of us, and little is done about that.

In his critique, the senator said that "facts are usually well reported, but newspapers today are almost as much concerned with opinion and prophecy as they are with news; and in that field there is much more room for bias and prejudice which affects the fact itself." In other words, some newspapers and some newspapermen feel strongly about some things.

As for facts, some of the things that the senator stated as "facts," about which he was right violent are not exactly as some of us remember them. So maybe a senator, too, can have just a mite of bias.

Perhaps something is explained in the senator's statement:

"I do not find that the press presents a very reliable picture of the character of individual public men."

Maybe we all ought to look in the mirror more often.

Dems Talk About Dumping Truman

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Anti-Truman resentment among the Democrats is now so deep that some are actually talking about trying to dump him.

What Truman has succeeded in doing is alienating both wings of the party — the Southern Democrats and the Northern liberals. This was something that Roosevelt, despite the kicking around he gave to some leaders, was careful never to do.

But now Truman has rubbed Northern liberals the wrong way by ousting such Roosevelt appointees as Marriner Eccles, James Landis and John Fahey. Simultaneously he has made Southern leaders boil over with indignation at his civil-rights message.

In fact, the only people Truman has pleased are the Republicans.

Result of all this is that some Democratic leaders are even talking among themselves about finding a new candidate. Admittedly they don't think the chance is great; for it's almost impossible to block the renomination of a sitting President.

However, some of them have been quietly discussing a boom for Justice William O. Douglas, while others talk about a draft-Eisenhower move for the Democratic ticket. After all, the first and only political speech Ike ever made was at a Jackson Day dinner at the age of 18.

Meanwhile Henry Wallace has told friends that he would yank his third party out of the running if the Democrats nominate Eisenhower, Douglas, Judge Thurman Arnold or any other Roosevelt Democrat.

Note — What Democratic leaders fear most is that Wallace's third party will carry so much of the labor vote that it will be impossible for Truman to carry New York and Illinois.

Whisky Champion.

HOUSE banking chairman Jesse Wolcott, who let the whisky makers back in the nation's grain bin, stood up for his distiller friends to the very end the other day, even against Senate strong-arm man Bob Taft, himself.

But the rotund, little Michigan Republican stood alone. Meeting behind closed doors other members of the joint economic committee voted unanimously with Taft to restore grain controls on the liquor industry. It was the second attempt to extend the allocation powers since Wolcott let them die in his House committee last month.

Wolcott, who once was described by a Hiram Walker representative as a man they could control, argued stubbornly that the liquor industry is just as essential as any other.

"These controls," he barked, "would simply pave the way for other controls."

"That is not at all true," shot back Taft. "These controls would just slow down operations for the time being, so we can give more bread to hungry people."

He pointed out that the industry has enough liquor stored in its warehouses to last six years.

"They can easily replenish their stocks months before they need it," he argued. "It is not a wet-and-dry issue at all, but just a temporary detention of operations."

"I would welcome this as a wet-and-dry fight," sputtered Wolcott. "The Republican party for a good many years has been considered as the dry party, and I would like to see it as the wet party.

"If we continue to knuckle down to the administration by keeping controls on distilling and other things, the first thing you know they'll be calling us the Republican 'New Deal'," he continued. "We were elected to get rid of controls, not maintain them." But when the Republicans voted against him, Wolcott backed down.

"Since I am chairman of one of the committees that will study this bill," he hedged, "I had better remain neutral."

"You must be one of these 'neutral spirits' we've been hearing about," cracked Alabama's Senator John Sparkman.

* * *

Republican Revolt.

TAX CHAIRMAN Harold Knutson would not be vacationing so serenely in Florida if he knew about the revolt brewing among his own Republican colleagues on the tax-writing ways and means committee.

For many months junior Republicans on the committee have been grumbling at high-handed Harold's way of running it. Particularly, they have resented Knutson decisions to investigate farm cooperatives, which even the committee's second ranking Republican, Dan Reed, of New York's dairy district, labeled as "inspired in Wall Street."

The Republican rebels are now doubly irked over a footnote buried in the official report on the income-tax-reduction bill. Although the Republicans read over what they thought was the final draft of the report, they now find tucked into the report a footnote which reads:

"They (small businesses) are being bankrupted by competition of tax-free cooperatives, exorbitant federal taxes, and the straitjacket government regulations, like the wage-and-hour law.

"Congress (must) take prompt action to eliminate the cause for this crushing misfortune . . ." Small business' biggest enemy, monopoly, wasn't even mentioned in the report.

Several Republicans were outraged, especially genial Rep. John Byrnes, of the Wisconsin dairy country. He insisted on calling a secret caucus of Republican ways and means members—even though Knutson had gone to Florida.

Note—Where the footnote originated is still a well-kept secret, but it's common knowledge that Knutson, though elected from Minnesota, gets his tax advice from Wall Street.

Changes Seen at Dachau

By KENNETH L. DIXON

Editor's Note—A close-up picture of the notorious Dachau prison camp as it is today—all cleaned up but with the smell of death not too far away—is drawn in the following dispatch from Kenneth L. Dixon. The International News Service correspondent is touring Europe with 40 leaders of the United Jewish Appeal who are studying refugee and displaced persons' conditions at first hand.

* * *

DACHAU, Germany — Well, Dachau is all cleaned up now. You'd hardly recognize the old crematorium where the "master race" liquidated what it considered the lesser elements of the human family.

Allied occupation forces have given it what you might call a shave, a haircut, a massage, a manicure—and a bunch of memorial plaques.

They are supposed to remind visitors (when there are visitors who are interested) of the horrors which once took place here. And, in a way, I suppose they do.

But there aren't any skeletons and skulls around, as there were three years ago, and there aren't any blood stains or marks of "interrogated" prisoners' clawing fingers on the walls. Mostly, there isn't the smell of torture and death—and there was, three years ago.

(Of course, if you strain your nerves' nostrils a bit, that biting sickening smell doesn't seem too far distant, at that.)

Technically speaking, the site of one of Germany's most infamous concentration and extermination camps has become a prison for the type of people who more or less supported its previous administration.

That is to say, individuals who are on trial for, or convicted of, having played along with the nazi regime now find themselves enclosed within its barbed-wire limits.

(That sounds like poetic justice—and it would be, except for a few points not generally known.)

* * *

That Dreadful Smell.

THE ALLIES have turned the operation of Dachau back over to the Germans. Officially, of course, they are "de-nazified" Germans who now administer the new type of justice within its stockade.

That means that either they never had (officially) nazi connections, or if they did they were slight and their penalties have been paid.

Anyhow, I have visited Dachau at considerable length, checked its food and its operations. It is quite interesting.

For instance, were I given my choice between the food served in Dachau to the erstwhile nazis, and the food served in the displaced persons camps in this same area to the victims of the nazis, I would not hesitate. For my money, the Dachau meals are better.

(And don't think you can't smell death in food. For weeks after I first visited Dachau, three years ago, it was almost impossible to eat enough to keep going.)

Also, there's the matter of operation at Dachau. Hundreds of "prisoners" who are on the so-called work gangs sleep outside the stockade each night.

It goes without saying that, until recently, there were hundreds of escapes weekly. Curiously, nobody in the area seemed particularly perturbed over those escapes—until an especially dramatic one occurred.

In the D.P. camps I found that escapes were treated with some considerable discipline by officials, and thus those who were bound for Palestine or elsewhere literally had to draw straws in order not to bring down wrath on the entire camp.

Also, a check of the area showed it was much easier for a nazi escapee of Dachau to get community aid than for a displaced person.

Visiting Dachau the day I did this time was a young Frenchman whose brother had been slain there. Also there was a young Jew who miraculously had survived countless beatings and torture sessions there, although he still bears vicious scars.

They were particularly intrigued by a German sign between the gas chamber and crematorium which had been left intact.

It warned the workers that "cleanliness" was of extreme importance, and therefore they should wash their hands carefully—after each execution.

(No, you don't have to strain even your nerves' nostrils too much to smell the death that still surrounds Dachau.)

Managing Husbands

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I DO NOT believe in managing husbands. I am aware that I am flying in the face of all established tradition when I take this attitude. But think, O think, of the adoring male subscribers I'll gather in!

Since the world began wives were expected to manage their husbands. Males were granted a position slightly higher than the rabbit. But only slightly.

However, I do not think it has been a good system or productive of happy results.

First off, any man who can be managed isn't worth cluttering the attic floor with.

Second, it's much like cheating at solitaire or shooting clay pigeons—a lotta outward show but no inward kick. If I want to make a man produce results I go out and get me a hired hand.

But when it comes to finding a pal that's a regular free for all gift, that's something else. Then I look for qualities that have nothing whatever to do with management. Qualities like generosity . . . quiet pleasures quietly shared . . . small, chuckling jokes. Little joys.

These to me seem the greatest gift on earth and nothing equals them in value—if you can find them.

And third, I have small faith in this notion of managing men for I do not think it can be done. You may kid yourself into thinking you're doing it, but he'll even up the score somehow.

You may keep a pup dolled up with a blue bow and feed him cream six days of the week. But on the seventh day he'll sneak out, kill the neighbor's cat, and dig up the bones buried last year in the back yard.

So ease up, sister.

If a man is worth having around, he's worth giving a free hand while he plays the game.

Planes That "Eat Gas."

The Air Force reveals that certain types of jet planes pay for their superlative speed by consuming as much as 550 gallons of fuel in an hour.

The fuel is not necessarily gasoline, but this news nonetheless suggests how tremendous would be the demands on the petroleum industry in the event of another war.

It is easy to see why there is such anxiety on that score and why there is talk of federal subsidization of the synthetic production of gasoline and other liquid fuels from natural gas and coal.

In a new war, the heavier military demand for liquid fuels would seem apt to cause a shortage of fatal proportions on the home front, unless new sources somehow had been provided in advance. —Detroit News.

Boy Given Life Term For Murder

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(INS)— A thirteen-year-old Ashland newsboy and honor student pleaded guilty Thursday in Middlesex superior court to a charge of second degree murder in the "laundry bag slaying" last July 3 of Mrs. Dorothy Swenson, 41, of Ashland.

The youth, Ralph E. Duchacek, was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Edward F. Hanify.

Landlord-Tenant Battle Still Goes On

Home Shortage Still Critical

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Mansfield's housing shortage is "just as tough as it was a year ago" and the exchange of complaints against both landlord and tenant are just as venomous.

It's a negative business that George H. Blecker, area rent control director, manages. He "never hears anything about the good landlords and the good tenants." But there's no shortage of the gripes from the complainers.

The only trouble is that the tenants usually are afraid to do more than complain, Blecker said. Since July, Blecker's office has been stripped of its power to prosecute tenants who violate the rental laws. The tenants must file the complaint and foot the bill of a law suit.

"They come in and tell us what's wrong—that their rent was raised too much or that the landlord won't redecorate—but they don't want to lose their place to live and most of them won't sign a complaint," the director related.

"What they don't realize is that they can't be evicted or forced out because they complained The law will protect them."

And there are a lot of violations going unreported for the same reason, Blecker added.

COMPLAINTS SEASONAL

The office's business is just as seasonal as any retail store's in town In the summer the tenants think the landlord should put up more awnings and blinds to keep the sun out; in the winter they think he should put on storm windows and fire the furnace heavier

Landlords usually complain that they aren't getting enough rent or that the tenants are destructive Many of these complaints are valid, Blecker said.

"One landlord in Mansfield said his tenant was too lazy to go to the basement for fire wood so he just chopped up the stairway railing and burned it," the director related.

"Another owner just repapered the whole house with plain cream-colored paper In a few days all walls had scribbled pictures about three feet from the floor. The tenants then got the child a step-ladder so he could reach higher on the walls to make more pictures

"Those things are fact and the landlord certainly had a right to kick," Blecker said.

On the other hand, there was the landlord who confessed quite openly about the evenings he spent in his car, outside his tenants' house, to watch what time they retired

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more important now than ever. He's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

And farmers have willingly shouldered that responsibility. Will spends extra hours in his cornfield ... comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five million farmers ... for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!

MISS BAUGHMAN FETED AT PRE-NUPTIAL PARTIES

Rehearsal Party Planned for Baughman-Campbell Bridal Party Tonight at Home.

A rehearsal party is planned for tonight for the wedding party of Miss Janet Anne Baughman and Charles L. Campbell at the home of the bride-elect's father, Wilfred L. Baughman, 536 South Main street. Miss Lois Baughman, who came from Washington, D. C., to attend her sister as maid of honor, will be hostess.

In attendance will be the bridesmaids, Mrs. Harry McCullough and Mrs. Joseph Adamescu; the organist, Mrs. Fred Cahall; the violin soloist, Karl Krauss; and Mrs. P. M. Talbot, contralto vocalist. The ushers, Mr. McCullough, John Koroknay and Douglas Barnes, will also be guests as well as Charles B. Campbell who will serve as his son's best man.

The formal wedding vows will be solemnized in a St. Valentine's day ceremony at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon before the altar of St. Luke's Lutheran church. Dr. Herbert Garnes will officiate.

Miss Janet Baughman, supervisor of elementary music in the Manscield City schools, is a graduate of Ohio State university. Her fiance attended the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Albert Benson, 260 Walter avenue, was hostess Wednesday evening when ten members of the staff of Woodland school honored the bride-to-be. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Charles Divelbiss and Miss Margaret Wadsworth.

The guests presented the honoree with an aluminum serving tray. Refreshments were served from a buffet centered by a miniature bride and groom between white tapers on a mirror effect. Bridge was the diversion of the evening.

A party was given earlier in the week by the staff of Prospect school. Miss Anna Maglott was hostess in her home, 26 State street. Also honoring Miss Baughman was a tea given this month by the staff at Brinkerhoff school The teachers of Newman school gave a luncheon there and Mrs. H. E. Williams, 516 Marion avenue, was hostess at her home for a kitchen shower.

Among other showers for the bride-elect was the picnic supply party given by the teachers of Springfield Township schools in the home of Mrs. Van Masters, 325 Sturges avenue. Mrs. F. R. West and Miss Ruth Baer were associate hostesses.

A crystal shower was given in January by Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Adamescu in the home of Mrs. J. C. Robinson, 504 South Main. The staff of Hedges Street school honored Miss Baughman with a luncheon and Mrs. E. D. Gibson was hostess at a tea towel and linen shower in her home, 292 West Fourth street.

Soon after announcement was made of the engagement, the Symphonettes, for whom Miss Baughman is the advisor, entertained with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. E. O. Delp, 556 Highland avenue.

The dinner which began the gay round of parties was given by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rex in their home, 392 Shepard road, with the staff of Carpenter school as guests.

Bride-Elect Of Sunday Given Shower

Miss Marjorie Schmidt, bride-elect of Jacque Hallman, was honored this week with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Charles J. Massa, 208 Sturges avenue. Mrs. R. E. Holmes was associate hostess.

The twelve guests spent the evening making a bride's book for the honoree who hemmed tea towels. Prizes for contests were awarded to Mrs. Jack Sumption and Mrs. Charles Pearl, who presented them to the bride-elect.

Miss Schmidt received many gifts including a set of glassware from the hostesses.

At a late hour a dessert course was served and Valentine appointments were used.

Miss Schmidt and Mr. Hallman will be married Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in an open church ceremony at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

Birthday Party Honors Two

Mrs. King Culp and Mrs. Tom Forrest were pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening by a birthday party given for them by their friends at the Culp home, 357 Marion avenue.

Bridge was played with high score prize going to Mrs. Forrest. Gifts were presented before refreshments were served buffet style from a table which held two large birthday cakes.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. William Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Culp, Mr. and Mrs. Jim A. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailet, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Nicholas and the husbands of the guests of honor.

Antique Show To Be Held

The Buckeye Hobby club held its regular meeting in the club rooms Wednesday night. A covered dish dinner was held and the tables were beautifully decorated in a red and white color scheme in favor of the Valentine season.

During the business meeting it was decided that another antique show would be held this year, sometime in May, the exact days to be decided later. Mrs. Albert Netting, Mrs. Charles Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gaber, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee were appointed on the program committee for the show.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Russell Gimbel who gave an interesting talk and showed a movie of the Friendly House.

Mothers Club To Buy Books

The West Fifth Street Mother's Club held its regular meeting in the club rooms Thursday afternoon. Miss Florence Berry's room won the book for the most mothers present It was decided that the Mothers' club will buy a set of books, "Music and Games," for the Brownie Troop.

Four new members were presented. They are Mrs. James Dloss, Mrs. John Pakos, Mrs. Glen Thomas, and Mrs. Reed Herr. Mrs. Leroy Peters and Mrs. Evelyn Ramsey's fourth grade home room presented an interesting program. The hostesses were Mrs. Joe Bertka, Mrs. Allen Mosey, Mrs. Richard Sarshler, and Mrs. Vern Graham. Mrs. Glen Thomas won the door prize.

The next meeting will be held March 11th. The program will be under the direction of Miss Beatrice Colvin. The Public School Orchestra conducted by Miss Janet Baughman will present a series of arrangements for the mothers. The teachers are to be the hostesses with Mrs. Katherine Bancroft as the chairman.

Middle Point Lady Lost 30 Lbs. Says General Health Improved

"I am 62 years of age," writes Mrs. Thos Armstrong, Van Wert County, Middle Point, Ohio "and before taking Rennel my weight was unbecoming and bulky. I have lost 30 lbs and am satisfied that my general health has improved Rennel has pepped up my system and since I have lost this weight my neuritis has fully disappeared."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennel.

Colony Club Plans Mixed Card Party

Final arrangements were made Thursday afternoon by the Colony club for its mixed card party to be given Saturday night at Prospect park pavilion. Mrs. Robert Paxton is general chairman for the party.

The plans were discussed during a business session in the Mansfield-Leland club room. Mrs. Richard Wolford presided. During the evening Saturday a baked goods sale will be conducted under the sponsorship of the ways and means committee.

Forty-five members of the Colony club were present for the luncheon and afternoon of bridge. Prizes for high score went to Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Wolford.

Two new members were present, Mrs. Evelyn Roberts and Mrs. Albert Barbone. Mrs. Robert Ellison, Columbus, and Mrs. Henry J. Paulsen were guests.

The committee for the meeting was directed by Mrs. Ralph Snyder and included Mrs. R. E. Gowing, Mrs. E. Jackson Osborne, Mrs. Ralph C. Ritchie, Mrs. J. N. Ritter, Mrs. John E. Smucker, Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Mrs. George L. Thom, Mrs. James D. Walker and Mrs A. V. Ligare.

The next meeting will be Feb. 26 at Happy Harry's. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. The same committee will have charge of arrangements.

Park Auxiliary Lists Officers

Prospect park auxiliary elected its new officers at the regular meeting Wednesday evening in the pavilion.

Mrs. Burke Schnittke will be the new president and her staff of officers is as follows: Mrs. George W. Preifer, vice president; Mrs. Paul G. Snyder, secretary; Mrs. Chester L. Swank, treasurer and Mrs. Lester Remy, chairman of the sick committee.

After a short business session cards were played and later a light lunch was served. Valentine appointments decorated the table.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Remy and Mrs. Snyder.

Traditional Dinners Given For Miss Bancroft and Mr. Gowing

THE TRADITIONAL spinster dinner and bachelor dinner honoring Miss Patricia Ann Bancroft and her fiance, Maurice Frank Gowing, were held last evening. Mrs. Bruce McGinty, 42 Blymyer avenue, was hostess to 16 young women at her home, while Tom Ford entertained for Mr. Gowing at his home, Alta West road. Twenty-three attended the stag dinner.

Following the dinner at McGintys when appointments were in the pastel colors, bridge was the diversion with score gifts presented to Miss Marjorie Boals and Mrs. James McConnell. The hostess presented the bride with a gift.

Out-of-town guests in attendance were Miss Helen Bancroft of Harrisburg, Pa., and Miss Anne Ford of Sturgis, Ky., both cousins of the bride-to-be, and who will serve as bridesmaids at her wedding tomorrow evening at the Park Avenue Baptist church.

When Mr. Ford, uncle of Miss Bancroft, was host to Mr. Gowing's friends, dinner was served, followed by a social evening. Out-of-towners in attendance were Tom Cullen and Fred Bancroft, both of Harrisburg, and Maurice Rice Gowing, Evanston, Ill., father of the bridegroom-to-be.

Mrs. Ford was hostess to 50 of Miss Bancroft's friends Wednesday for a tea at her home. The guests were invited to see the bride-elect's wedding gifts. Presiding at the attractively decorated table, centered with a heart-shaped arrangement of red roses and lighted with all tapers were Mrs. Robert Gowing and Mrs. Jack Crouse. Other floral arrangements in red and white decorated the home.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Gowing of Evanston, parents of the bridegroom, will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner. Twenty-eight will be served in the club rooms, Mansfield Leland hotel.

Birthday Party To Be Given

Mrs. Mary Dinges, Springmill street, was hostess to members of the Esther Class of the Mayflower Congregational Church Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Albert Frank as associate hostess. Mrs. Elizabeth Harbaugh was a guest in attendance. Mrs. Louis Christy led the devotions and Mrs. Harry Adams conducted the business session.

Contests were the diversion with prizes won by Mrs. Lial Ish and Mrs. C. A. Cole. Following the social hour refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held March 10 at the church for a covered dish dinner. Members who have birthdays in January, February, March or April will be honored. Hostesses will be Mrs. L. H. Edwards and Mrs. Mary Seymour.

Banquet Club Plans Program

Mrs. Frank McGinty entertained nine members of the Banquet club Thursday night in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Snyder, Herman avenue. Two guests were present, Mrs. Clayton Henry and Mrs. B. R. Clevenger, Leechburg, Pa.

Mrs. Edward McMahon, president, conducted a business session during which the program for the year was outlined.

Mrs. Robert Campbell and Mrs. Glen McMillen received birthday presents from the club and prizes for games were awarded to Mrs. McMillen, Mrs. Alex Davis, Mrs. John George and Mrs. Mary Howell. The two guests also received prizes.

Valentine appointments were used when refreshments were served. Mrs Davis, South Main street, will entertain the group March 11.

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made of the spring meeting of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio to be held May 20 and 21 at the Gibson Hotel, Cincinnati.

Helpful Hints On Furnishing a Home

By ROSEMARY MYERS

Fashions in furniture, or in decoration, may change—but good taste does not! So, sound design in home furnishings will look fresh a decade hence, as it does today. That is the reason the Myers Furniture Co., in Bellville selects conservative, well-styled furniture, made by old reliable manufacturers, and also tries to guide you in your purchases, to make certain the selections you make are a possession—not for the moment—not even for years only—but something to have and to enjoy throughout your lifetime, then pass on to your descendants.

We can only do this by careful selection, so today, we will list some "DO'S" and "DON'TS" for you to remember and consider when choosing upholstered pieces for your home.

DON'T select a strip which is too broad for your Early American sofa, or colors which clash with the wood. DO—be safe with a two-inch strip, large plaid or free informal pattern. Rough-looking nubby textures go well with this period Also be sure to suit the size of the pattern to the scale of your furniture.

DON'T cover your sophisticated 18th century chair with a large plaid or harsh color. DO highlight the beauty of the wood and grace of the design with deep, rich tones. This period takes best to subtle, dignified patterns, although you might consider a large floral with an open background. You'll find, too, that dull-finished fabrics give your period pieces a slightly modern look, without offending their dignity.

DON'T place subtle, grayed colors or formal traditional patterns in a group of modern furniture—it shrinks behind drabness. DO feel free to go vivid in color, imaginative in pattern. You'll find out-of-scale patterns with geometric or animal motifs give modern pieces the gay company they need. Strong colors will also enhance their light woods.

DON'T go astray with oversize patterns or stark modern colors for a French Provincial room. DO remember that this is an informal, peasant period which finds subtle checks and plaids becoming, and loves dainty detail in its patterns. Colors should be light in key and slightly grayed.

DON'T put heavy, rough textured cotton on a side chair which is light in weight and spirit. Such styles as Duncan Phyfe and Hepplewhite are distinctive because of their delicate design. Don't distort it. DO fit your upholstery or slipcover to the character of the chair. Instead of smothering your treasure, a small dainty pattern with a smooth finish will point up it's fine lines, as a stripe is also correct

DON'T be tempted by a fabric so beautiful and costly that the piece it covers must never be used. Your family and friends will soon fail to see its beauty. DO insist on fabrics the family can use and enjoy, fabrics that can stand the wear of everyday living. You won't have to look far, for many of today's loveliest patterns are amazingly resistant to dirt and wear. You'll always find the fabrics on the upholstered furniture at Myers in keeping with the style of the furniture. When Mr. Myers and myself attend the different furniture shows and furniture factories, we take a lot of time to see new and improved fabrics and are careful in our selection, so as to protect you, our customers, from a bad selection.

Myers Furniture in Bellville are open daily until 9 each evening for your shopping convenience, and will be glad to show you through the "Wishmaker House" model rooms. Send your decorating problems in to Box 278 Bellville and we will be glad to answer them free of charge.

Your Figure, Madam

Aside from your intangible fund of will power, progress with your figure program may depend on a number of other things. You can get down to normal weight—that's a promise—but unless you are prepared for certain unexpected snags, you may be tempted to call the whole thing off and go back to overeating. It helps enormously to know what to expect on a reducing program.

If you have always taken a more or less active interest in exercise, your muscles are in fairly good tone and your weight is compact. In that case it may take longer to start the pounds moving and the going will not be brisk. Don't expect better returns than ¾ to 1 pound a week weight loss. On the other hand, you have a head start on a good figure, for compact weight always looks better, even when there is too much of it.

In comparison, the flabby overweights seem to have an unmeritedly easier time of it. When much of the excess is in flabby tissue, it can be lost rather rapidly. Overweights of this type can take off up to 5 pounds in a single week, and 10 pounds in 3 weeks without too much effort. A fairly rapid weight loss may continue until most of the soft, easy-to-lose fat has been turned back into energy.

Another important factor in the rate of weight loss is the amount of the excess. As a general rule, the greater the excess, the faster it comes off, for more of the weight is in soft, flabby tissue. That is why a person who is 50 or so pounds overweight can reduce at a faster clip than the person who is a mere 15 pounds above normal.

But it's tough going for the dieter who doesn't start to lose until she has been on a diet for two weeks, sometimes even a bit longer. There seems no completely satisfactory explanation for this paradoxical failure to lose on a low calorie diet. As I have explained before, the cause is water retention. It's simply that water is being stored in the tissues as the fat is lost, and the two weigh the same—so there is no tangible evidence that pounds are gone. However, the water balance eventually adjusts itself. Sometimes it takes 10, 12 and even 16 days, but when the tissues give up the water, it's a happy day for the reducer who suddenly finds herself 5 or 6 pounds lighter.

Limiting the sale intake helps combat water retention. With decreased salt intake, the salt content of the tissues decreases, which results in elimination of water. Very salty foods should be avoided and no salt should be sprinkled on food at the table. The water consumed, however, has nothing to do with water retention. Eight glasses of water a day are needed.

The other dietary aid which helps counteract water storage is a diet high in the protein foods—meat, fish, eggs, cheese and milk—and adequate in the B vitamins. The low calorie diet should be supplemented by a multiple vitamin concentrate, a concentrate which furnishes all the vitamins in adequate amounts. Vitamins in capsule form do not add extra calories.

Horoscope

For Saturday, February 14

AN exceptionally brilliant and concentrated course of action is seen, in which well-laid-out and organized plans and objectives are aided by innovations, unique ideas. Fresh ways and means of tackling ambitious projects should culminate in the hearty and enthusiastic support of those in high places. These impressed by novelty, cleverness, ingenuity and a show of indomitable "will to win." Courage, persistent efforts and constructive ability in new places should thrive.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find that a bright and shining idea, put over with zeal and determination, especially in the way of initiative, innovation and concentrated effort with daring in untried creative lines, might attract surprising support from influential sources. The emphasis must be on ingenuity, skill and originality, as well as to make a mark in some very special way for needful collaboration.

A child born on this day is excellently endowed with practical talents and skills, with originality, versatility and courage for winning support and position for an outstanding career in life.

Elect Officers At Guild Meet

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Central Methodist church were guests Tuesday evening of Miss Betty Fisher, 21 Glenwood boulevard. New officers installed for 1948 were Miss Fisher, president; Miss Elizabeth Burneson, vice president, Miss Gloria Tucker, secretary, and Miss Genevieve Stough, treasurer.

The devotions—were conducted by Miss Ida Willis. Miss Mary Dotson told the story of the hymn "We May Not Climb the Heavenly Steps," and played a record of the song. The next meeting will be March 16 in the home of Mrs. W. R. Wilmoth, 233 Rhein avenue.

Auxiliary Meets

Mrs. Charles Seeburger, 152 South Main street, was hostess Tuesday evening to ten members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Firemen. Games were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Mrs. Frank May and Mrs. Leo Saltzgaber. Luncheon was served by the hostess at tables decorated in keeping with St. Valentine's day. A covered dish dinner is planned for 6 p. m. March 9 at the home of Mrs. Saltzgaber, 547 Maple street.

Youth Wins Case Review

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Sixteen-year-old Donald Frohner, Youngstown high school student who was sentenced to death in the electric chair for the hitch-hike slaying of William Speith over a year ago, Thursday won review of his case by the state supreme court.

The high court admitted his appeal to review on the contention of his attorneys that the three-judge court should not have accepted his plea of guilty to a first degree murder indictment.

Frohner and another 16-year-old, Arthur Chapman, were accused of beating and shooting Speith to death Jan. 13, 1946, in an attempt to steal his auto. Chapman also was convicted but with a recommendation of mercy, and was sentenced to life imprisonment. He did not appeal.

More Data Given on Association Of Wallace With Leader of Cult

WHILE WE continue to wait for Henry Wallace to say something about his association and infatuation with the late Prof. Nicholas Roerich, the Russian Easter-egg designer, fortune-teller and medicine-man, I will continue to tell you little odds and ends bearing on the questions of Wallace's honesty, which his followers talk so much about, his moral courage, his fairness and his mental condition.

Henry refuses to say whether he wrote the idiotic guru letters to Roerich which bobbed up for sale to the Republicans in 1940 when he was running for vice president under Roosevelt.

But he doesn't have to say whether he knew Roerich and fell for him during the time when the old guy was playing a season as God Almighty to a select list of suckers in New York.

★

We know Henry knew Roerich and we know he did fall for him. We know he did hang around the joss-house on Riverside drive where Roerich held forth as the voice from the cloud of incense, drooling like a St. Bernard on the wrong side of a kitchen door and going tee-hee, as are his wonts.

Henry fell for the God-man so hard that he put over a big publicity show in Washington to solemnize the signing of the Roerich pact of peace, symbolized by an original device which Roerich designed himself, and arranged upon an official banner.

This pact was a promise by the American powers of the western world that in case of war they would refrain from inflicting harm on artistic treasures. Babies, yes. Babies were fair prey. But statutes of squint-eyed, pot-bellied Buddhas, carved out of anthracite or laundry soap, no.

The mighty air force of Costa Rica and the marching hordes from El Salvador would not lay waste the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and pretty decent of them so to promise. It was a great day for peace, culture, Roerich and Wallace.

The Roerich pact was a great publicity dodge. The old boy had put over a similar score in Belgium a few years before and he had a habit of going around hanging a distinguished order of his own on gullible potentates and isolated vice-consuls. First-class for the big-shots, second-class for the punks.

Soon after Henry became secretary of agriculture, the press-agent of the joss-house on the drive drew a bead on our dribbling hay-shaker and would not leave him be until he fixed up this ceremonial signing of the Roerich pact at the climax of a three day orgy of oratory.

He was only secretary of agriculture and the secretary of agriculture sits well below salt and just barely does rank and administrator of the wage and hour division. But he is a cabinet member of the United States of A., and that means prestige in foreign parts.

★

So this press agent heated up Henry, and, damme, if Henry didn't fix it.

So on Nov. 15, 1933, in the White House, old Moosejaw the One "accepted" the Roerich "pact and banner of peace" in the presence of Henry, himself, Dr. Gilborges, the director-general of the Pan-American union, and Dr. Magoffin, honorary president of the Archeological Institute of America.

Walter Winchell

Vajta Remains on Ellis Island; Court Eases Draft-Dodger's Fine

FERENC VAJTA, the man who allegedly helped Hitler kill American pilots in Hungary (and who aided in the mass murders of helpless people), is still on Ellis Island. . . . No hearings have yet been scheduled. . . . This is most unusual, and insiders connected with the U. S. Immigration Dep't are convinced that there is something very funny going on. Pressure, etc. . . . They suspect that the pressure is coming from the State Dep't. . . . It is now open talk that this Hitler conspirator arrived in the U. S. by plane—accompanied by a State Dep't employee. . . . And not because he is a government informant or any such thing. . . . What happened to your widely publicized announcement, Congressman MacDowell? . . . What has happened to your promise that the American people would be fully informed through a public hearing—with Vajta on the stand?

★

A U. S. Appeals court has reduced Serge Rubinstein's fine by $10,000. . . . What a laugh that must be for the draft-dodger. . . . It was worth a million to him to keep off the beach at Guadalcanal, and he wouldn't have taken part in the fight at Iwo Jima for ten million in solid gold. . . . However, if the United States court rules that Serge is going to get back $10,000—that's what he will get (ironically) because the men who died taking his place fought to uphold the high court which reduced his fine.

★

Movie firms are not allowed to publicize the fact that their films are shown at the White House. . . . A few nights ago, however, the President witnessed "The Senator Was Indiscreet" there. . . . This is the film which several newspaper commentators rebuked for its "undignified treatment of duly elected representatives" . . . The President, the column is informed, laughed fit to kill at nearly all of it. . . . "The Senator" in the picture resembles Mr. Truman no little. . . . He wanted to know if it was lampooning Dewey or Taft.

All the Puns Fit to Print: From yesterday's PM: "Gen. Eisenhower's self-effacing statement would seem to indicate that he would rather be Dwight than be President.'

From yesterday's N. Y. Times editorial page: "There has never been a commanding general of the United States armies so universally and effectionately known to all his fellow-citizens simply by his nickname. He might truly say 'I would rather be Ike than President."

Yeah, we know. We read those puns in our column weeks ago.

★

This is to announce the Winchell election poll. . . . Readers and listeners (and those who aren't) from the 48 states are herewith invited to send this column a postcard: "I am going to vote for (fill in name)". . . . Candidates could be Truman, Stassen, Taft, Vandenberg, Warren, Saltonstall, Wallace and how about Eisenhower?

Mr. Reece and Mr. McGrath, chairman of both political parties, will be invited to serve as watchers of the weekly mail count. . . . We will announce the weekly "vote" every Sunday night at 9.

Lincoln's Spirit Seen Needed Now

GOP Given Challenge By State Official

"America today needs the humble, uncompromising spirit of Abraham Lincoln," R. R. Bangham, assistant director of the state department of public welfare, told a Lincoln Day audience last night at the First Methodist church.

Bangham told his audience of about 175 persons to "keep in mind Lincoln's love of country. Think about his deeds and faithfulness to the country."

Bangham called for sacrifice today to preserve the American way—the Lincoln way—of life.

Bangham said many people today "are worried about what tomorrow may bring. But we can do as Lincoln did — keep pegging away and solve our problems. We must have the devotion and love of country that Lincoln had," Bangham said. "We must give of ourselves if America is to stand strong.

"Popular government is not an absurdity," Bangham asserted. "But," he added, "a lot of people in the world are trying to prove that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, will not work. We must prove that the American way will work.

"Good government comes from the bottom up. Under our system of government it comes from folks like you here," he said.

OWE PUBLIC DUTY

He told office-holders that "in being called upon to serve the people you have more than a job, more than a pay check to draw."

He said the Republican party should be proud of the work done by the last legislature, under the leadership of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. He listed achievements as higher pay for teachers, construction of hospitals by the welfare department, and the lowering of taxes. "Ohio has made many progressive steps under Gov. Herbert," he said.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn made the address of welcome. Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, Thompson Jackson, a member of the Republican executive committee, and Earl A. McFarland spoke briefly.

Ralph M. Hardy, chairman of the executive committee introduced Republican candidates at the dinner. Those introduced and the nominations they seek included Ray Friday, clerk of courts; H. R. Barnes, recorder; Charles Pittenger, sheriff; John C. Friday, C. H. Hebel, John W. Selby, commissioners; Theodore Lutz, prosecutor; Judge Stuart H. Cramer, probate judge; Neil S. Robinson, state representative.

Republican officials in the city government also were introduced. Music was provided by Smart's accordion band.

Richland Bee Inspector Named

Richland county commissioners have reappointed Floyd Stumph as Richland county bee inspector for 1948 at $10 per day or $4 for each half day of inspection work. He also receives traveling expenses at the rate of five cents per mile.

Stumph had been reappointed earlier but turned down the job because he said the pay was too low. The old wage scale was $8 and $4.

Red Cross Drive Ready

Mishey Elected To Chapter Board

Samuel Campbell reported on plans for the annual Red Cross fund campaign at a meeting of the Red Cross board yesterday afternoon. He said that plans were nearly complete. The campaign will start March 1.

L. L. Mishey was elected to the board to fill the unexpired term of James L. Zimmerman, resigned. John Finefrock jr., was named first aid chairman to replace W. J. Robbins, chairman for many years, who resigned.

Board members also heard a report from W. F. McCartney of a meeting at Columbus at which Basil O'Connor, national president of the Red Cross, spoke on the national blood program and the disaster program.

They decided to send a treadle sewing machine to a Red Cross sewing project in a European country. Permission was granted to the Girl Scouts to use the chapter rooms for a sewing project during the next several weeks.

Girl, 9, Hurt In Traffic

A nine-year-old Coul street girl suffered minor injuries shortly after 4 p. m. yesterday when she ran into the path of a Yellow Stripe taxi cab on North Walnut street.

The child, Carol Hamilton, of 219 Coul street, suffered contusions of the head and was treated at General hospital. The child's mother, Mrs. Milo E. Hamilton, said the girl was resting well today.

Police said the Hamilton girl told them she and a companion, Carolyn Smith, 181½ North Mulberry street, started across the street to watch a crane work at the old Majestic theater site.

Donald C. Brandt, driver for the cab company, told officers the two little girls ran from behind a double parked truck in front of Met's auto supply shop.

Group Sets Up State Tests

BUTLER—The Butler faculty committee, headed by Supt. of Schools Eugene H. Rider, has been chosen to construct the preliminary district-state scholarship test in biology for 1950 and the final district-state test biology for 1951, Supt. Rider said today.

Members of the committee who will assist Supt. Rider in the work are W. C. Hanson and John Cunningham. The committee was named by Ray G. Wood, director of Ohio Scholarship tests.

Supt. Rider said the test is to be completed by May, 1949, and is to include not more than 150 items. The test will require an hour to complete. Material for the exam will be obtained from the most frequently used textbooks in biology in Ohio.

Motorist Reports His Car Ransacked

Gerald Bureau of Ashland reported to police early yesterday that $14 worth of tools had been stolen from his car while it was parked in an East Fourth street parking lot Wednesday night.

Taken from the glove compartment of the car were a flashlight, first aid kit, screw drivers, and pliers. Bureau added that a defroster fan, attached to the steering wheel shaft, was missing also.

Bowlers' Group Schedules Dance

The Sons of Herman Bowlers' association will hold its Valentine dance Saturday at 8 p. m., at the lodge hall on Orange street. Eddie Skulski's band will play. Jake Streitmater is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Ancient Tombstone Enshrined In Store

A tombstone, silent reminder of the days when Ohio farmers labored hard with sickle and scythe to harvest their wheat, attracted scores of visitors today in Montgomery-Ward's new farm equipment store.

It rivaled for attention the tens of thousands of dollars worth of modern farm labor-saving machines that have made easier the daily chores of descendants of the pioneer woman whose final resting place the tombstone marked.

The inscription on the tombstone said it marked the grave of "Catherine, wife of Jacob Keefer." Catherine was born in 1796 and died Oct. 4, 1866, at a time when the United States was engaged in a bittle struggle against disunity.

Beyond the story those brief words told, none seemed to know the history of the lonely grave the tombstone marked.

The stone, worn and chipped with the age of 81 years, was discovered by workmen remodeling the West Fourth street location for Ward's new farm store.

STONE PRESERVED

Ward's officials ordered the stone carefully preserved. It was enshrined in a corner of the first floor and painted to match the color of the store floor.

Miss Adeline Underwood, owner of the building, said she knew nothing of the history of the tombstone or of the grave it marked.

Evidently it had remained through the years buried beneath accumulations of earth while thousands of feet tramped back and forth where for many years stood the old city market owned by Ed Ford. Later, the store building was used as a restaurant and a warehouse.

J. G. Blahnik, Mansfield manager for Montgomery-Ward, said an effort was being made to trace the history of the tombstone but that it would be kept on the first floor where it may be viewed by visitors to the store.

Posts $25 Bond For Court Appearance

J. Bernard Hagan of the Mansfield-Leland hotel, was released yesterday on $25 bond for his appearance in municipal court, Feb. 17 after Hagan's wife, Ann C. Hagan, charged him with disorderly conduct.

Hagan was taken into custody by police yesterday afternoon at the hotel where he allegedly caused a disturbance.

Fumes Make Driver Ill

Thomas Lepley, World War II veteran of Akron, was found unconscious at 8 a. m. today in the cab of his truck at the All States Freight company, 555 Dewey avenue. Attendants at General hospital said his condition was poor.

Dwight Hodgson, dispatcher at the All States Freight company, said that Lepley drove into the plant last night from Chicago with a load of merchandise and planned to go on to Akron this morning.

He curled up on the seat of the cab to sleep, leaving the engine running. When employes went to awaken him this morning, they found him overcome by fumes.

Firemen from Central Station went to the freight company with the city's iron lung and respirator but by the time they arrived an ambulance was preparing to take Lepley to the hospital.

Engineers Hear Of Electronics

Electronics have left the laboratory and entered the industrial field where they are being used to speed and improve the processing of steel, paper, wood and rubber. This was the message to 250 members of the northcentral chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, meeting last night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Engineers were present from Ashland, Wayne, Crawford and Richland counties. James A. McDermid was in charge of the program. Talks were given by Hal Toner, electronics engineer, and Robert A. Morgan, sales promotion expert, both of Pittsburgh.

A movie showing industrial uses of electronics highlighted the meeting. The meeting followed a dinner at the Happy Harry restaurant.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

His acquaintances know him as "Duke" and his employes at the Richman Brothers company know him as "Mr. Saylor." He's G. H. Saylor and his birthday today is one of three February birthdays in his immediate family, so tonight, Mrs. Saylor and their son, Jack, will be guests at the son's home with the daughter-in-law as hostess. Saylor's hobbies are the company store of which he's manager and his nine-month-old granddaughter, Juli. She's granddad's pride and joy.

Saylor

Irl Fisher is marking his 50th birthday today and Mrs. Fisher asked a few friends in for the evening to help him celebrate. Fisher is president of the YMCA, part owner of the Mansfield Screw Machine Production company and active in civic affairs.

Today also is the birthday of Edwin K. Bacon, well-known Mansfield business man, and Robert K. Porter.

'SUGAR BIRD' TIME—

"Sugar Bird" weather is here. That's the season in late winter when there's just a hint of spring in the air and the maple syrup camps are getting ready to go into operation. The "sugar birds," which seem to have different identities in different communities, usually are the cheerful little titmice in this area. They twitter merrily during the early morning, apparently sensing that winter is about over.

County OK's Insurance

The Holibaugh-Wolfe insurance company's proposal to provide coverage of Richland county vehicles for 1948 has been approved by the county commissioners.

The policy, which covers bodily injury and property damage liability, will be issued by the American Automobile Insurance company of which the Holibaugh-Wolfe company is Mansfield representative.

The policy is a renewal of one which expires Feb. 15. The premium is $1,471.15 annually.

The bodily injury liability carries a limitation of $10,000 in the event of injury to one person and $20,000 for total damages in the event more than one person suffers injuries involving county vehicles.

Property damage liability carries a limitation of $5,000.

Warn Parents Of Boy Vandals

Destruction of three beehives on Seminole avenue brought warnings today from sheriff's officers to the parents of several small boys accused of wrecking the hives.

C. B. McCarthy, 29 Stewart avenue, reported to deputies at 4:30 p. m. yesterday that the tops had been taken off three of his beehives and that a brick had been dropped through the top of one hive. Destruction of the hives caused all the bees to freeze, McCarthy said.

The owner asked deputies to talk to the parents of the children, aged seven and nine, after refusing to file charges.

Ohio Sale Starts On Monday

64 Slow-Selling Brands Offered

COLUMBUS—(AP)—You can get liquor at below-cost prices during a two-weeks' sale starting Monday at state stores.

The board of liquor control today approved cuts averaging $1.25 a bottle on 64 brands of slow-moving and overstocked liquors. Customers will be offered savings ranging from 39 cents to $2.79 a bottle.

State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon said the mark downs on 677,832 bottles of cordials, liqueurs, brandies, rums, specialties and whiskies total $846,917.

Dunifon said the bargain sale would be the first of a series of three. The second will be held about the middle of March and the third by the middle of April. Goods left over from the sales will be offered to bulk bidders.

SHARP MARK-DOWN

The 64 brands going on sale Monday were marked down from their present total price of $2,166,234, to the special price of $1,319,317.

Dunifon said these liquors cost the state $1,781,030, not counting freight, handling, storage and insurance charges. The sale prices mean a loss of 26 per cent, or $461,714.

Some of the brands have been cut to no more than the federal tax which ranges up to $9 a gallon on 100 proof liquor. The 1947 special session of the legislature, in authorizing sales to bulk bidders to help clear liquor store shelves of overstocked brands, stipulated that the prices could not be cut to less than the federal tax.

Dunifon said the idea of below-cost prices was to move over-stocked brands now rather than take heavier losses later on through accumulated storage charges and other items.

In the lot going on sale Monday, 57 per cent was purchased by the liquor department in 1946, 26 per cent prior to 1946 and 17 per cent in 1947. All the brands, Dunifon said, were acquired before he took over as liquor director last July.

Scio Starts Work Again

SCIO—(U.P.)—Many of the residents of this Ohio village of 1,181 returned to work today amid plans for a long and noisy party to celebrate the event.

At approximately 7 a. m., 450 of the 800 Scio Pottery company workers who were burned out of their jobs on Dec. 11 returned to their posts in the new fire-resistant steel factory. Full production is scheduled to get under way by March 1.

Rep. Earl Lewis (R.-O.) plans to be on hand for the big celebration at 3 p. m. Former Governor Frank J. Lausche also will be there as will all the Pittsburgh entertainers who were to have appeared at the pottery's pre-Christmas bonus party that was canceled by the fire.

Fifty-one employes of the pottery will accept delivery of 51 new automobiles from Northern Ohio dealers.

Reese, who attracted national attention by handing out huge Christmas bonuses and almost utopian labor-management relations, himself wasn't sure today exactly what will take place at the party.

"We'll let matters take their own course," he said.

Reese took the plant over in 1932, during the depression, on a "shoe-string." Townspeople soon joined the venture on a "you'll get-paid-if-this-works-out" basis.

The delapidated factory was built into a $3,000,000 business and Reese became a recognized figure in the pottery field in the next 15 years.

Unsteady 'Prowler' Loses His Way

The "prowler" at the William Morrison home, 790 South Diamond street, last night, turned out to be a fellow who had sniffed the cork too much and needed directions.

Morrison notified the sheriff's office at 7:40 p. m. that a man was prowling around his home. Officers investigated and picked up the pickled prowler. He was held until his sense of direction was restored.

New Bromfield Book Due Off the Presses April 28

A sequel to Louis Bromfield's "Pleasant Valley" will be on the book shelves April 28, George Hawkins, Bromfield's business manager, said today.

The "second chapter", as Hawkins called it, of "Pleasant Valley" will be called "Malabar Farm" and will be a little more technical than the first book on the famous farm in southern Richland county.

"Malabar Farm" will be published by Harper Bros.

Hawkins said the book wouldn't lend itself readily to filming since it is based on Bromfield's work in rebuilding rundown acres into the famous Malabar showplace.

"Pleasant Valley," which appeared several years ago, proved one of Bromfield's most popular books. It is still selling well throughout the country.

Bromfield's story of "Kenny", purchased by Hollywood film executives, is still in the planning stage, Hawkins said.

"I doubt if the script has even been written yet," he said.

More Data Given on Association Of Wallace With Leader of Cult

WHILE WE continue to wait for Henry Wallace to say something about his association and infatuation with the late Prof. Nicholas Roerich, the Russian Easter-egg designer, fortune-teller and medicine-man, I will continue to tell you little odds and ends bearing on the questions of Wallace's honesty, which his followers talk so much about, his moral courage, his fairness and his mental condition.

Henry refuses to say whether he wrote the idiotic guru letters to Roerich which bobbed up for sale to the Republicans in 1940 when he was running for vice president under Roosevelt.

But he doesn't have to say whether he knew Roerich and fell for him during the time when the old guy was playing a season as God Almighty to a select list of suckers in New York.

★

We know Henry knew Roerich and we know he did fall for him. We know he did hang around the joss-house on Riverside drive where Roerich held forth as the voice from the cloud of incense, drooling like a St. Bernard on the wrong side of a kitchen door and going tee-hee, as are his wonts.

Henry fell for the God-man so hard that he put over a big publicity show in Washington to solemnize the signing of the Roerich pact of peace, symbolized by an original device which Roerich designed himself, and arranged upon an official banner.

This pact was a promise by the American powers of the western world that in case of war they would refrain from inflicting harm on artistic treasures. Babies, yes. Babies were fair prey. But statutes of squint-eyed, pot-bellied Buddhas, carved out of anthracite or laundry soap, no.

The mighty air force of Costa Rica and the marching hordes from El Salvador would not lay waste the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and pretty decent of them so to promise. It was a great day for peace, culture, Roerich and Wallace.

The Roerich pact was a great publicity dodge. The old boy had put over a similar score in Belgium a few years before and he had a habit of going around hanging a distinguished order of his own on gullible potentates and isolated vice-consuls. First-class for the big-shots, second-class for the punks.

Soon after Henry became secretary of agriculture, the press-agent of the joss-house on the drive drew a bead on our dribbling hay-shaker and would not leave him be until he fixed up this ceremonial signing of the Roerich pact at the climax of a three day orgy of oratory.

He was only secretary of agriculture and the secretary of agriculture sits well below salt and just barely does rank and administrator of the wage and hour division. But he is a cabinet member of the United States of A., and that means prestige in foreign parts.

★

So this press agent heated up Henry, and, damme, if Henry didn't fix it.

So on Nov. 15, 1933, in the White House, old Moosejaw the One "accepted" the Roerich "pact and banner of peace" in the presence of Henry, himself, Dr. Gilborges, the director-general of the Pan-American union, and Dr. Magoffin, honorary president of the Archeological Institute of America.

Vajta Remains on Ellis Island; Court Eases Draft-Dodger's Fine

FERENC VAJTA, the man who allegedly helped Hitler kill American pilots in Hungary (and who aided in the mass murders of helpless people), is still on Ellis Island. . . . No hearings have yet been scheduled. . . . This is most unusual, and insiders connected with the U. S. Immigration Dep't are convinced that there is something very funny going on. Pressure, etc. . . . They suspect that the pressure is coming from the State Dep't. . . . It is now open talk that this Hitler conspirator arrived in the U. S. by plane—accompanied by a State Dep't employee. . . . And not because he is a government informant or any such thing. . . . What happened to your widely publicized announcement, Congressman MacDowell? . . . What has happened to your promise that the American people would be fully informed through a public hearing—with Vajta on the stand?

★

A U. S. Appeals court has reduced Serge Rubinstein's fine by $10,000. . . . What a laugh that must be for the draft-dodger. . . . It was worth a million to him to keep off the beach at Guadalcanal, and he wouldn't have taken part in the fight at Iwo Jima for ten million in solid gold. . . . However, if the United States court rules that Serge is going to get back $10,000—that's what he will get (ironically) because the men who died taking his place fought to uphold the high court which reduced his fine.

★

Movie firms are not allowed to publicize the fact that their films are shown at the White House. . . . A few nights ago, however, the President witnessed "The Senator Was Indiscreet" there. . . . This is the film which several newspaper commentators rebuked for its "undignified treatment of duly elected representatives" . . . The President, the column is informed, laughed fit to kill at nearly all of it. . . . "The Senator" in the picture resembles Mr. Truman no little. . . . He wanted to know if it was lampooning Dewey or Taft.

★

All the Puns Fit to Print: From yesterday's PM: "Gen. Eisenhower's self-effacing statement would seem to indicate that he would rather be Dwight than be President."

From yesterday's N. Y. Times editorial page: "There has never been a commanding general of the United States armies so universally and effectionately known to all his fellow-citizens simply by his nickname. He might truly say 'I would rather be Ike than President.'"

Yeah, we know. We read those puns in our column weeks ago.

★

This is to announce the Winchell election poll. . . . Readers and listeners (and those who aren't) from the 48 states are herewith invited to send this column a postcard: "I am going to vote for (fill in name)". . . . Candidates could be Truman, Stassen, Taft, Vandenberg, Warren, Saltonstall, Wallace and how about Eisenhower?

Mr. Reece and Mr. McGrath, chairman of both political parties, will be invited to serve as watchers of the weekly mail count. . . . We will announce the weekly "vote" every Sunday night at 9.

Lincoln's Spirit Seen Needed Now

GOP Given Challenge By State Official

"America today needs the humble, uncompromising spirit of Abraham Lincoln," R. R. Bangham, assistant director of the state department of public welfare, told a Lincoln Day audience last night at the First Methodist church.

Bangham told his audience of about 175 persons to "keep in mind Lincoln's love of country. Think about his deeds and faithfulness to the country."

Bangham called for sacrifice today to preserve the American way—the Lincoln way—of life.

Bangham said many people today "are worried about what tomorrow may bring. But we can do as Lincoln did — keep pegging away and solve our problems. We must have the devotion and love of country that Lincoln had," Bangham said. "We must give of ourselves if America is to stand strong.

"Popular government is not an absurdity," Bangham asserted. "But," he added, "a lot of people in the world are trying to prove that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, will not work. We must prove that the American way will work.

"Good government comes from the bottom up. Under our system of government it comes from folks like you here," he said.

OWE PUBLIC DUTY

He told office-holders that "in being called upon to serve the people you have more than a job, more than a pay check to draw."

He said the Republican party should be proud of the work done by the last legislature, under the leadership of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. He listed achievements as higher pay for teachers, construction of hospitals by the welfare department, and the lowering of taxes. "Ohio has made many progressive steps under Gov. Herbert," he said.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn made the address of welcome. Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, Thompson Jackson, a member of the Republican executive committee, and Earl A. McFarland spoke briefly.

Ralph M. Hardy, chairman of the executive committee introduced Republican candidates at the dinner. Those introduced and the nominations they seek included Ray Friday, clerk of courts; H. R. Barnes, recorder; Charles Pittenger, sheriff; John C. Friday, C. H. Hebel, John W. Selby, commissioners; Theodore Lutz, prosecutor; Judge Stuart H. Cramer, probate judge; Neil S. Robinson, state representative.

Republican officials in the city government also were introduced. Music was provided by Smart's accordion band.

Richland Bee Inspector Named

Richland county commissioners have reappointed Floyd Stumph as Richland county bee inspector for 1948 at $10 per day or $4 for each half day of inspection work. He also receives traveling expenses at the rate of five cents per mile.

Stumph had been reappointed earlier but turned down the job because he said the pay was too low. The old wage scale was $8 and $4.

Red Cross Drive Ready

Mishey Elected To Chapter Board

Samuel Campbell reported on plans for the annual Red Cross fund campaign at a meeting of the Red Cross board yesterday afternoon. He said that plans were nearly complete. The campaign will start March 1.

L. L. Mishey was elected to the board to fill the unexpired term of James L. Zimmerman, resigned. John Finefrock jr., was named first aid chairman to replace W. J. Robbins, chairman for many years, who resigned.

Board members also heard a report from W. F. McCartney of a meeting at Columbus at which Basil O'Connor, national president of the Red Cross, spoke on the national blood program and the disaster program.

They decided to send a treadle sewing machine to a Red Cross sewing project in a European country. Permission was granted to the Girl Scouts to use the chapter rooms for a sewing project during the next several weeks.

Girl, 9, Hurt In Traffic

A nine-year-old Coul street girl suffered minor injuries shortly after 4 p. m. yesterday when she ran into the path of a Yellow Stripe taxi cab on North Walnut street.

The child, Carol Hamilton, of 219 Coul street, suffered contusions of the head and was treated at General hospital. The child's mother, Mrs. Milo E. Hamilton, said the girl was resting well today.

Police said the Hamilton girl told them she and a companion, Carolyn Smith, 181½ North Mulberry street, started across the street to watch a crane work at the old Majestic theater site.

Donald C. Brandt, driver for the cab company, told officers the two little girls ran from behind a double parked truck in front of Met's auto supply shop.

Group Sets Up State Tests

BUTLER—The Butler faculty committee, headed by Supt. of Schools Eugene H. Rider, has been chosen to construct the preliminary district-state scholarship test in biology for 1950 and the final district-state test biology for 1951, Supt. Rider said today.

Members of the committee who will assist Supt. Rider in the work are W. C. Hanson and John Cunningham. The committee was named by Ray G. Wood, director of Ohio Scholarship tests.

Supt. Rider said the test is to be completed by May, 1949, and is to include not more than 150 items. The test will require an hour to complete. Material for the exam will be obtained from the most frequently used textbooks in biology in Ohio.

Motorist Reports His Car Ransacked

Gerald Bureau of Ashland reported to police early yesterday that $14 worth of tools had been stolen from his car while it was parked in an East Fourth street parking lot Wednesday night.

Taken from the glove compartment of the car were a flashlight, first aid kit, screwdrivers, and pliers. Bureau added that a defroster fan, attached to the steering wheel shaft, was missing also.

Bowlers' Group Schedules Dance

The Sons of Herman Bowlers' association will hold its Valentine dance Saturday at 8 p. m., at the lodge hall on Orange street. Eddie Skulski's band will play. Jake Streitmater is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Ancient Tombstone Enshrined In Store

A tombstone, silent reminder of the days when Ohio farmers labored hard with sickle and scythe to harvest their wheat, attracted scores of visitors today in Montgomery-Ward's new farm equipment store.

It rivaled for attention the tens of thousands of dollars worth of modern farm labor-saving machines that have made easier the daily chores of descendants of the pioneer woman whose final resting place the tombstone marked.

The inscription on the tombstone said it marked the grave of "Catherine, wife of Jacob Keefer." Catherine was born in 1796 and died Oct. 4, 1866, at a time when the United States was engaged in a bittle struggle against disunity.

Beyond the story those brief words told, none seemed to know the history of the lonely grave the tombstone marked.

The stone, worn and chipped with the age of 81 years, was discovered by workmen remodeling the West Fourth street location for Ward's new farm store.

STONE PRESERVED

Ward's officials ordered the stone carefully preserved. It was enshrined in a corner of the first floor and painted to match the color of the store floor.

Miss Adeline Underwood, owner of the building, said she knew nothing of the history of the tombstone or of the grave it marked.

Evidently it had remained through the years buried beneath accumulations of earth while thousands of feet tramped back and forth where for many years stood the old city market owned by Ed Ford. Later, the store building was used as a restaurant and a warehouse.

J. G. Blahnik, Mansfield manager for Montgomery-Ward, said an effort was being made to trace the history of the tombstone but that it would be kept on the first floor where it may be viewed by visitors to the store.

Posts $25 Bond For Court Appearance

J. Bernard Hagan of the Mansfield-Leland hotel, was released yesterday on $25 bond for his appearance in municipal court, Feb. 17 after Hagan's wife, Ann C. Hagan, charged him with disorderly conduct.

Hagan was taken into custody by police yesterday afternoon at the hotel where he allegedly caused a disturbance.

Fumes Make Driver Ill

Thomas Lepley, World War II veteran of Akron, was found unconscious at 8 a. m. today in the cab of his truck at the All States Freight company, 555 Dewey avenue. Attendants at General hospital said his condition was poor.

Dwight Hodgson, dispatcher at the All States Freight company, said that Lepley drove into the plant last night from Chicago with a load of merchandise and planned to go on to Akron this morning.

He curled up on the seat of the cab to sleep, leaving the engine running. When employes went to awaken him this morning, they found him overcome by fumes.

Firemen from Central Station went to the freight company with the city's iron lung and respirator but by the time they arrived an ambulance was preparing to take Lepley to the hospital.

Engineers Hear Of Electronics

Electronics have left the laboratory and entered the industrial field where they are being used to speed and improve the processing of steel, paper, wood and rubber. This was the message to 250 members of the northcentral chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, meeting last night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Engineers were present from Ashland, Wayne, Crawford and Richland counties. James A. McDermid was in charge of the program. Talks were given by Hal Toner, electronics engineer, and Robert A. Morgan, sales promotion expert, both of Pittsburgh.

A movie showing industrial uses of electronics highlighted the meeting. The meeting followed a dinner at the Happy Harry restaurant.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

His acquaintances know him as "Duke" and his employes at the Richman Brothers company know him as "Mr. Saylor." He's G. H. Saylor and his birthday today is one of three February birthdays in his immediate family, so tonight, Mrs. Saylor and their son, Jack, will be guests at the son's home with the daughter-in-law as hostess. Saylor's hobbies are the company store of which he's manager and his nine-month-old granddaughter, Juli. She's granddad's pride and joy.

'SUGAR BIRD' TIME—

"Sugar Bird" weather is here. That's the season in late winter when there's just a hint of spring in the air and the maple syrup camps are getting ready to go into operation. The "sugar birds," which seem to have different identities in different communities, usually are the cheerful little titmice in this area. They twitter merrily during the early morning, apparently sensing that winter is about over.

County OK's Insurance

The Holibaugh-Wolfe insurance company's proposal to provide coverage of Richland county vehicles for 1948 has been approved by the county commissioners.

The policy, which covers bodily injury and property damage liability, will be issued by the American Automobile Insurance company of which the Holibaugh-Wolfe company is Mansfield representative.

The policy is a renewal of one which expires Feb. 15. The premium is $1,471.15 annually.

The bodily injury liability carries a limitation of $10,000 in the event of injury to one person and $20,000 for total damages in the event more than one person suffers injuries involving county vehicles.

Property damage liability carries a limitation of $5,000.

Warn Parents Of Boy Vandals

Destruction of three beehives on Seminole avenue brought warnings today from sheriff's officers to the parents of several small boys accused of wrecking the hives.

C. B. McCarthy, 29 Stewart avenue, reported to deputies at 4:30 p. m. yesterday that the tops had been taken off three of his beehives and that a brick had been dropped through the top of one hive. Destruction of the hives caused all the bees to freeze, McCarthy said.

The owner asked deputies to talk to the parents of the children, aged seven and nine, after refusing to file charges.

Ohio Sale Starts On Monday

64 Slow-Selling Brands Offered

COLUMBUS—(AP)—You can get liquor at below-cost prices during a two-weeks' sale starting Monday at state stores.

The board of liquor control today approved cuts averaging $1.25 a bottle on 64 brands of slow-moving and overstocked liquors. Customers will be offered savings ranging from 39 cents to $2.79 a bottle.

State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon said the mark downs on 677,832 bottles of cordials, liqueurs, brandies, rums, specialties and whiskies total $846,917.

Dunifon said the bargain sale would be the first of a series of three. The second will be held about the middle of March and the third by the middle of April. Goods left over from the sales will be offered to bulk bidders.

SHARP MARK-DOWN

The 64 brands going on sale Monday were marked down from their present total price of $2,166,234, to the special price of $1,319,317.

Dunifon said these liquors cost the state $1,781,030, not counting freight, handling, storage and insurance charges. The sale prices mean a loss of 26 per cent, or $461,714.

Some of the brands have been cut to no more than the federal tax which ranges up to $9 a gallon on 100 proof liquor. The 1947 special session of the legislature, in authorizing sales to bulk bidders to help clear liquor store shelves of overstocked brands, stipulated that the prices could not be cut to less than the federal tax.

Dunifon said the idea of below-cost prices was to move over-stocked brands now rather than take heavier losses later on through accumulated storage charges and other items.

In the lot going on sale Monday, 57 per cent was purchased by the liquor department in 1946, 26 per cent prior to 1946 and 17 per cent in 1947. All the brands, Dunifon said, were acquired before he took over as liquor director last July.

Scio Starts Work Again

SCIO—(ILP)—Many of the residents of this Ohio village of 1,181 returned to work today amid plans for a long and noisy party to celebrate the event.

At approximately 7 a. m., 450 of the 800 Scio Pottery company workers who were burned out of their jobs on Dec. 11 returned to their posts in the new fire-resistant steel factory. Full production is scheduled to get under way by March 1.

Rep. Earl Lewis (R.-O.) plans to be on hand for the big celebration at 3 p. m. Former Governor Frank J. Lausche also will be there as will all the Pittsburgh entertainers who were to have appeared at the pottery's pre-Christmas bonus party that was canceled by the fire.

Fifty-one employes of the pottery will accept delivery of 51 new automobiles from Northern Ohio dealers.

Reese, who attracted national attention by handing out huge Christmas bonuses and almost utopian labor-management relations, himself wasn't sure today exactly what will take place at the party.

"We'll let matters take their own course," he said.

Reese took the plant over in 1932, during the depression, on a "shoe-string." Townspeople soon joined the venture on a "you'll-get-paid-if-this-works-out" basis.

The delapidated factory was built into a $3,000,000 business and Reese became a recognized figure in the pottery field in the next 15 years.

Unsteady 'Prowler' Loses His Way

The "prowler" at the William Morrison home, 790 South Diamond street, last night, turned out to be a fellow who had sniffed the cork too much and needed directions.

Morrison notified the sheriff's office at 7:40 p. m. that a man was prowling around his home. Officers investigated and picked up the pickled prowler. He was held until his sense of direction was restored.

New Bromfield Book Due Off the Presses April 28

A sequel to Louis Bromfield's "Pleasant Valley" will be on the book shelves April 28, George Hawkins, Bromfield's business manager, said today.

The "second chapter", as Hawkins called it, of "Pleasant Valley" will be called "Malabar Farm" and will be a little more technical than the first book on the famous farm in southern Richland county.

"Malabar Farm" will be published by Harper Bros.

Hawkins said the book wouldn't lend itself readily to filming since it is based on Bromfield's work in rebuilding rundown acres into the famous Malabar showplace.

"Pleasant Valley," which appeared several years ago, proved one of Bromfield's most popular books. It is still selling well throughout the country.

Bromfield's story of "Kenny", purchased by Hollywood film executives, is still in the planning stage, Hawkins said.

"I doubt if the script has even been written yet," he said.

Bellville Dance To Aid Gridders

BELLVILLE — Proceeds of the Bellville Athletic club's Valentine day dance here tomorrow night will be used to help pay off the debt on the new lighting plant for Bellville high school football. The dance is slated at 9 p. m. Saturday according to Don Barr, head of the Bellville AC.

The Bellville AC, a strong booster for high school sports, promoted a football game last year for the lighting fund, but did not clear enough to pay off the debt. Previously the club purchased uniforms for the Bellville high band.

Today's Program Of Sports Events

Gilead, Millersburg at Loudonville.

LOCUST BOWLING—Moose lodge league, 6:30 p. m.; Women's Commercial league, 8:30 p. m.; Mansfield Tire, Tappan Stove and Westinghouse "Owl" leagues, 11:30 p. m.; Independent league, 8:30 p. m.

RICHLAND BOWLING—Barnes league, 8:30 p. m.

Big Tiger Quint May Halt Streak

The big, bad Tiger basketball team from Massillon's Washington high school makes a foray against the Tygers, Mansfield Senior high variety, tonight in the Bengal gymnasium.

Another sellout is anticipated for the two-game program which begins with a clash of cub teams at 7 p. m. Tickets will be sold at the gate tonight. The varsity aggregations are ticketed to clash at 8:15.

Massillon will present the biggest and possibly the most talented visiting cage crew to appear on the Tyger hardwood this season. Washington high has three veterans off the 1947 club which lost to Mansfield, 52 to 44.

ONLY THREE LOSSES

This season only three of 13 teams have been able to decision the Tigers. They lost to Canton McKinley, 65 to 45; Akron South, 46 to 37 and Akron Goodyear Machinists, 35 to 25.

The rangy Massillon basketeers have beaten Canton Timken, 42 to 36; Steubenville, 45 to 36; Canton Lehman, 47 to 41; Canton Lincoln, 54 to 23, and 68 to 32, Canton McKinley, 42 to 38 (overtime); Alliance, 38 to 35 and 39 to 36, East Liverpool, 45 to 43 (overtime), and New Philadelphia, 62 to 42.

Senior high romped over New Philly, 67 to 36 but fell before East Liverpool, 34 to 33.

Only one of the three Massillon lettermen have been able to crack the starting lineup, attesting to the power of the Tigers. Bill Oliver, 6-2; Earl Johnson, 6-1; and Stanley Kutz, 6-3 are the veterans

TEAMS WITH GALEY

Oliver teams with leading scorer Chuck Galey at the Tiger forward posts. Galey, only Massillonite under six-foot, has plastered the net for 159 points. Kutz, who has been nudged from the starting center job, is second with 92 while Oliver has 79.

Jim Poth, another lad who scales 6-2, has slipped in at center. He has counted 22 points in two starting efforts. The other starters are: Clarence Johnson and Carl Lazaroff, both six-foot guards.

Coach Vern Hoffman's lads will be seeking their tenth straight home court victory and the 14th triumph in 18 games. Hoffman will use his regular five of Nick Gagich, Shelley Swank, Burt Lindsay, Norb Shibinski and Paul Ferguson.

Tonight's game will mark the ninth clash between Hoffman-coached teams and Massillon. Senior high has taken the last two tilts to lead the series five to three.

Lexington, Lucas Clash In County Loop Feature

Lexington high's league leaders will be favored to win their twelfth Richland county loop contest tonight when the Minutemen play Lucas on the Lexington floor.

Butler, in second place one game from the top rung, meets Bellville on the Butler floor with the Bulldogs heavily favored to win. The Bulldogs have the highest scoring record in the circuit and also boast of the best defense.

Shiloh's much-trampled crew will play at Union and Plymouth at Ontario in other league games.

COUNTY DRAWINGS

The drawings for the Richland county tournament will be held at the office of Boyd Robinson, county superintendent, in the courthouse, at 10 a. m. Saturday. The first four teams in the league standings will be seeded, with Lexington defending its crown.

Last year Butler was the runner-up, losing to Lexington in the championship game.

The tournament will start next Wednesday.

District Tourney Pairings Slated Tomorrow Morn

Pairings for the annual Class A district basketball tournament will be made tomorrow at 10 a. m. at Sandusky.

The tournament will again be staged in the Sandusky junior high gym starting March 3. Semi-finals of the tourney will be played on March 12 with the finals scheduled for March 13.

Ashland defeated Mansfield in the finals of the 1947 meet, 41 to 39. Madison was eliminated in the first round of play by Sandusky, 37 to 33. Senior high then turned around and knocked the Sandusky team out of the running, 43 to 38

TWELVE TEAMS

Twelve teams will again compete in the tourney. They are. Senior high, Madison, Ashland, Shelby, Sandusky, Bellevue, Norwalk, Willard, Bucyrus, Tiffin Columbian, Fremont Ross and Tiffin Calvert.

Madison has the best won-lost record of the tournament teams. The Rams have won 15 consecutive contests.

Augie Morningstar, athletic director and Vern Hoffman, basketball coach will represent Senior high at the meeting. Madison's representatives will be Jeff DeHaven, coach, Olan LaRue, superintendent, Richard Bailey, Bill Kopcial and Henry Sheets.

Veeck Says Jim Hegan Has Last Salary Offer

CLEVELAND —(INS)— As far as Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, is concerned, holdout catcher Jim Hegan can sit out the summer at his Lynn, Mass., home.

Hegan returned his fourth unsigned contract to the Indians yesterday. He is reported to want $11,000 for the season but Veeck said the contract is his "final offer."

McKeever Case Goes To Pro Grid Ranks

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — The football eligibility ruckus kicked up by Coach Ed McKeever at the University of San Francisco showed signs today of following him into professional football.

President Tony Morabito of the San Francisco 49'ers is en route to Chicago with demands for an investigation by the All-America conference of the "white paper" of USF football which McKeever left behind when he became coach of the Chicago Rockets.

After coaching at USF for a year McKeever abruptly resigned last month to take the pro team job and wrote a widely circulated letter in which he questioned eligibility of 22 USF players and said money was paid to some of the Dons.

Morabito left last night for a week end meeting of officials of the All America conference, of which the 49'ers and Rockets are members.

"I'll say plenty about this at the meeting," Morabito said.

He said he considered McKeever's action "my business and I don't like it."

"We're trying to build good will—not tear it down," Morabito added. "He is one of us and people can't help but ask: 'What kind of coaches do you hire?'"

Asked if he believed McKeever's job with the Rockets would be endangered, Morabito said:

"This certainly won't enhance it."

University of San Francisco officials meanwhile returned a heavy fire of counter charges at McKeever.

USF athletic officials charged McKeever had:

1. Told five players he brought here for the USF team to cover up the fact they had previously attended other colleges.
2. Stripped the athletic files of such papers as schedule negotiations, alumni letters on prospects and football plans.
3. Repeatedly exceeded budgets for grid games.

3 Official League Tilts Scheduled

SHELBY—Three Northern Ohio league games are on tap tonight.

Bellevue can add to its league championship by going through the league season without a defeat by beating Crestline on the Crawford county school's floor. Bellevue will be gunning for its seventh straight loop win

Coach Charles Williams' Whippets will travel to Galion, while Willard moves into Norwalk.

In a non-league game, Bucyrus will attempt to end Mansfield Madison's long string of 15 victories and no losses when the NOL school entertains the Rams.

The Redmen hold second place in the NOL with four victories in six games.

Fox Hunt Group Schedules Drive

The Richland county fox hunters will hold their weekly drive tomorrow at Yankeetown starting at 11:30 a. m. Yankeetown is four miles northeast of Mansfield on Piper road off Route 42.

Hunters from Mansfield will assemble at the Madison high school parking lot at 11:15 Raymond Tingley will be in charge of the fox drive.

Madison Seeks 16th Straight Victory

Bucyrus 5 Entertains Jeff's Rams

Unbeaten Madison high, its string now at 15 straight, will journey to Bucyrus tonight to oppose the high-scoring Redmen, who are on their way to their best record in the past half-dozen campaigns.

The Bucyrus team, in second place in the Northern Ohio league standings, has one man who is certain to be a problem for any opponent, and that is the dead-eyed Jim Gallant. Gallant has been the spark of the Bucyrus attack, and his last-second field goal last week defeated Norwalk 47-46.

In the matter of offensive power, Madison is expected to do all right, since Dick Ernsberger, Dick Poth, Eldon Pritchard, Bob Wilson, and Herb Eldridge are capable of handling their share of the point-making against any rival.

HAS BEEN ROUGH

But the stopping of Gallant, and his mates, has been a rough job all season as the Redmen have rolled over 11 rivals in 14 games and have only three games left on the card. Bucyrus followers feel if they can hurdle the Madison threat they will have a chance to wind up the campaign with 14 victories and only three losses.

At the present time Eldridge paces the Madison scorers with 162 points, Ernsberger having 136, Pritchard 131, and Wilson 126. Coach Jeff DeHaven apparently has his men at the peak of their game, but with every victory the tension becomes greater as the Rams seek to boost their long string of triumphs. A poor night against Bucyrus, or any other team left on the schedule, could blast the enviable record to bits.

TEAM HAS STUFF

Coach DeHaven is expected to start his veteran front line while Coach Al Pesek of the Redmen will send his strongest lineup into action. Bucyrus almost lost to Norwalk, trailing for three quarters, 40-34, but the team proved it had the stuff in the clutch by tallying 13 points in the final stanza while limiting Norwalk to six.

In addition to Gallant, Bucyrus has an outstanding player in Bill Kibler, a brilliant star when the going is toughest. Kibler is credited with saving the Norwalk game, even though it was Gallant who dumped in the game-winning goal. Kibler collected 12 points in the second half against Norwalk, while Gallant ran his total for the year to 261 points.

Bucyrus leads the Northern Ohio league in team scoring with 314 points in six loop affairs.

Ohio State Teams See Action In 4 Sports Saturday

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Ohio State's swimming, basketball, wrestling and fencing teams will see action this Saturday with the spotlight on Mike Peppe's star-studded tankmen.

The Buck Swim squad will put its 18-game winning streak on the block at Iowa city against Iowa. The Hawkeyes are pinning their hopes on free-stylist Wally Ris to shatter the OSU record. Ris is the man who splashed to a new OSU pool record in the 100 yard event during the NCAA here last year.

Meanwhile, Coach Casey Frederick's wrestlers will grapple with the Illinois grunt and groan men here on Saturday. The Bucks will be after their fourth win in six meets.

The OSU fencing team rounds outh the Buck sport schedule this week-end when it invades Illinois Saturday in quest of its third win in five outings this season.

Ohio State's cellar-dwelling basketball team will have little at stake in a Big Nine meeting here Saturday against Illinois.

The Scarlet five currently shares the low rung in the loop standings with Northwestern while Illinois is in fifth place.

The Illini boast a 61-58 win over OSU in an earlier meeting at Champaign but the Bucks will have the advantage of the home court in this contest.

Veterans Lead Way In Open

HARLINGEN, Tex. —(AP)— Veteran campaigners Jimmy Demaret and Clayton Heafner led the way today as a field of 105 moved into the second round of the $10,000 lower Rio Grande valley open.

Sixty spots in the final 36-hole battle for the money were on the line and the race was close. Twenty-nine crack shots who bettered 35-36—71 par over the Harlington municipal course's 6,045-yards yesterday were within a range of five strokes.

Demaret, the links troubador from Ojai, Calif., and Heafner, the big blond from Charlotte, N. C., whittled par by six strokes apiece as they came in with 65's.

Not a single amateur was among the first 29. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., shot an even par 71 to tie for thirtieth place.

Makes It Final

BARNESVILLE —(AP)— There was little joy at nearby Centerville high school today. Belmont high won last night's basketball game, 146-26, for what well may be the most decisive score in Ohio high school cage annals.

Renew Puck Feud

Cleveland's hockey Barons take to the ice again tomorrow night to renew their feud with the Hershey Bears on sixth city ice.

Some Lingo of the Lanes

Arlene Peters Features Bowling

By GAYLE HAYES

Arlene Peters, starting off at a brilliant pace, rammed in high series for women bowlers last night on the Colony Bowling lanes, even though cooling off to a 172 third game.

Arlene smashed 197 to start with and jumped to 210 the second game for a 579 total, but her team had to spot Richland Printing too many sticks and lost the odd game. The P. D. Bar dropped the opener by four sticks. Garnett Karl led the Printers with 462. Ike Hockenbury was off to a weak start with 117, but bounced back with 198 and 165 for 480.

Helen Wilhelm dropped 514 pins on games of 140, 184 and 190, a stick more than Florence Handwork gathered on 189, 167 and 157. Lemley's Cleaners won a pair from City News in this match.

Ruth Southworth led Kay Shoppe to a clean sweep over Mansfield Frosted Foods with a 529 series, on games of 158, 181 and 190.

★

Humphrey set the pace in the Dominion Women's league on a 530 total, compiled on games of 201, 166 and 163, with Sams getting 464, Robinson 409, Sziraki 410, Stringfellow 423 and Indorf 419.

★

Forrest Domer was top man in the Tappan league as he banged in a middle game of 235 to go with 161 and 135 for a 531 total, with Paul Wolf shooting 175, 193 and 157 for 525 and Don Sharp having 133, 182 and 204 for 519. Buck Rogers had a 218 middle game and a 500 total while Sal Mickalski tumbled 512 and Joe Streitmater hit 532 after a 201 start.

★

Joe Rizzo and Elden Becker paced the Amvets league on the Richland alleys, as Rizzo clubbed 167, 141 and 180 for 497 and Becker had 177, 131 and 143 for 451.

★

The Crescent Cafe team, with two of its members swatting 598 each, paced the Commercial 'B' circuit with a 2,710 total. Gene Funston collected 192, 204 and 202 and Lou Piller crashed 204, 203 and 191. The Cafe team won the middle game by three pins and lost the third by 10 in the match with Casto's Market. Dick Treisch was top gunner for the Market crew with 210, 214 and 158 for a 582 total.

Brig Young, with 191, 195 and 203 for a 589 total, paced Oak Park Tavern against Ringside, as Jim Dunn was top kick for Ringside with 145, 190 and 220. Frank Burton banged in a 588 series for Mansfield Rug, with individual games of 203, 197 and 188, two pins more than Chuck Roby acquired for Ace Cabs. Roby tumbled 181, 192 and 213.

Darrell McCullough's 184, 224 and 174 for a 582 total was the big series for Dearman Transportation, with Horne Breese getting 193, 197 and 178 for 569 pins for the same team, which won all three from Ingram and Martin Oldsmobile.

John Ibe's 569 led Local No. 17 as he hit 191, 173 and 205. Bob Hilborn and Jon Klish paced Yuncker Bros. Nick Weber was high for Liederkranz with 572 on a steady series of 189, 193 and 190.

★

Dorothy McCartney was high in the Women's Industrial on her 153, 173, 160 series for a 486 total, with Mary Smoot scoring 450 on games of 147, 167 and 136 and Edna Owens getting 151, 111 and 165 for 427. Donna Vaneff shot 125, 152 and 152, with Maxine Bomar and Helen Christoff barely over the 400 mark.

★

Carmel, off to a 200 start, but skidding in his other games, dropped 551 pins in the Richland C league on the Richland drives. Messenger of Gault had 548 on games of 173, 187 and 188 while Guisinger tumbled 189, 184 and 170 for 543.

★

The official prize list for the city bowling tournament, dividing $1,041 to the winners, follows. Prize checks may be picked up at the Colony alleys Saturday.

School Skate Event Blitzed

Uncertain weather has caused postponement of Mansfield's annual scholastic ice carnival. The "blades" event was scheduled tomorrow on the North Lake park ice.

Director Harry Mehock announced the postponement at noon today. A field of more than 400 students from grade school through Senior high are entered in the 36 events.

The grade school division competition has been rescheduled for next Wednesday at 4 p. m. with the junior and senior high school skaters taking the ice Saturday, Feb. 21, at 9:30 a. m.

Newman Wins Fifth In Row

The Newman team won its fifth straight game in the Northern division of the Grade School league on the John Simpson floor last night, limiting West Fifth to a fourth quarter point in a 10-1 victory.

Bushnell found Western an easy opponent and took a 30-2 victory, with W. B. Jones pacing the scorers with 11 points.

Lefty Deeds Gets Job as Pilot of Mansfield Grays

Lefty Deeds was named manager of the Mansfield semi-pro baseball Grays at an organization meeting of the club last night at Martin's Tavern.

Deeds has been with the Grays for two seasons in the capacity of relief pitcher and coach. Dean Hahn, first-sacker, finished the 1947 season as player-manager of the Grays.

Approximately 30 fans and players attended the meeting. The group decided to erect an outfield fence at the Blue Goose field and put up additional bleachers. Construction of dugouts is also contemplated.

The Grays will begin spring practice as soon as the weather permits.

Another meeting of the players has been scheduled for March 11 at Martin's Tavern.

Brown Says Pro Coaching Easier Than College Work

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Coaching a professional football team, says Paul E. Brown of Cleveland's two-time All-America conference champs, is easier than handling a college club.

But Brown has never been one to insist on an easy job, or shy away from a tough one. All of which may be one reason rumors are rampant that "Precision Paul," should he get an offer, might embrace a chance to return to Ohio State—this time at athletic director and coach.

A Minneapolis sports writer, quoting a purported interview with Dick Larkins, Ohio State athletic director, brought the Brown-OSU affair into the open yesterday. Larkins denied he had made a statement to the Minneapolis scribe that "Brown has started a terrific drive in Columbus and around Ohio to return as football coach at the Buckeye state. Brown is not happy in the pro atmosphere. He has a good bank account and wants to coach college kids again."

And Brown, in Columbus yesterday to show the Browns' 1947 football film to assorted sports writers and radio men, also denied starting a campaign to return to Ohio State.

WATCHES CONVERSATION

The Cleveland mentor declined to be drawn into conversation regarding whether he would again take over the Buckeye reins should the opportunity present itself. Answering a question, "Would you rather coach college than professional football?" Paul said:

"Some of the happiest days I ever spent were in Massillon, as a high school coach."

Professional football, Brown said, is easier to coach because "you don't have that continual pressure and your recruiting problem is simplified. Discipline is easier, too, for all you have to do is threaten to cut a guy off the payroll and he sees things your way.

"The pro game is just glorified intercollegiate football, with the pass offense and defense more highly developed."

Taking cognizance of the "disturbance" caused by the signing of Ohio State players by the Browns, the Cleveland coach said:

"I am in the professional football business, and I want the best players I can get. I'd be foolish to 'bamboozle' a boy into signing a pro contract if he were happy in his intercollegiate playing. Such a boy would do us no good.

DOESN'T NEED MONEY

"But take the case of Dean Sensanbaugher. He signed with us, and it wasn't because of the money. His father gave him a $3,800 automobile for Christmas—that's how much he needs the money. He just wants to play football, and decided he'd rather play with us than with Ohio State."

Brown continued: "If I were a college coach, I'd battle just as hard to keep my boys who are eligible for pro ball as I do now to get them to sign. It's all business, and depends which side you are on."

The Clevelander said he'd try to keep the Browns the class of the All-America conference "just as long as I can. I'm not a good loser. I'd rather win a game before 1000 fans than lose one before a gate of 80,000."

When the meeting ended no one, except Brown, was certain whether he had an idea in the back of his mind that he might some day return to Ohio State, where his 1942 team won the national championship. And Paul wasn't saying.

A Fighting Yank In Kashmir

Pathans Ravage Towns

(Russel Haight, Ex-GI from Brooklyn and Denver, led primitively-equipped Moslems and wild Pathan tribesmen, against the planes, artillery, and machine guns of the Indian army. So successful was the American soldier of fortune that he was promoted from captain to brigadier general of the Azad (free) Kashmir army by one jump.)

CHAPTER 4

By RUSSELL K. HAIGHT

DENVER —(NS)— We captured the town of Kolli and I watched the wild Pathan tribesmen pillage the town of Kolli and carry off its women.

I had thought we were liberating the town. But when we drove out the Hindu troops there were no joyful demonstrations by the townspeople to greet us.

The men had all been killed or captured by the Indian army. And the women sat patiently in their homes and waited for the Pathans.

And so the Pathans took over. First they looted the bazaar, seizing clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils — anything they could carry.

And finally the women.

There were nouseless struggles, no vain shrieks of protest. When the Pathans had had their way, they selected the best-looking among their victims and carried them off.

I was told the tribesmen would sell the women on the market in Peshawar as "labibi"—"red women."

Hindu strategy was to retire from town to town, making no attempt to hold positions between. Now they had retreated 40 miles from Kotli to Janghar.

The Indian army held this town of 1,500 persons with a force of 600 Punjabs and Sikhs.

Again I had the Pathans use "psychological warfare"—screaming and drum-beating in the jungle—all night long.

We attacked at dawn.

The frightened Hindus just got into their trucks and armored cars and fled. We captured Janghar without a casualty.

I pushed my men on to Seria. The greater part of the Pathans stayed behind to loot, but there wasn't enough lot for all.

Local Moslems told us that the Indian army had a garrison of 2,700 at Seria.

We soon found that they also had artillery—25 pounders and 3.7 mountain guns—plenty of mortars and Bren guns, and wireless communications with their troops on the ridges on both sides that commanded the town.

I decided we ought to attack at once. All day my brigade slept while I led a scouting patrol.

I found that Mangigalala ridge, which looked down on the town from the north, dominated the valley. It was defended by 500 men, two mountain guns, five mortars, and many Bren guns.

Three sides of the ridge were gradual slopes, without much protective cover. The fourth was a steep cliff.

The way to take Mangigalala ridge, I decided, was in a night attack from the cliff side.

That night, as howls, shrieks, and drum-beats rose from the jungle in blood-curdling counterpoint, I led 50 of my regulars and 1,300 Pathans to the foot of the cliff.

The main body of my forces, 1,800 men, were in the jungle in front of the town. They would attack when I fired a green Very pistol flare signalling the taking of the ridge.

Six men came up the cliff beside me. I signalled and we rushed a Bren-gun pit five yards away. I bowled over the Sikh gunner and one slash of my kukli (native short sword) took care of him. But, somehow, a shot was fired, rousing all the Hindus on the ridge.

In the dark they opened up with Bren-guns and mortars, although they couldn't see what they were shooting at. The fireworks frightened my Pathans, and they tumbled back in disorder down the face of the cliff.

We were outnumbered and the Hindus started to push us back. In desperation I fired my Very pistol flare and ordered my men to hold.

They held long enough for the attack on the town below us to begin. The Hindu commander must have frightened easily for he quickly ordered a retreat. He must have radioed the order to the troops facing us on the ridge.

Had our men in the valley known of the true situation on the ridge, they wouldn't have attacked.

We had been saved because the enemy had wireless communications and we had none!

(Tomorrow Haight tells how he ran afoul of communist intrigue in Kashmir.)

Four Circles Hold Meets

GALION — Four circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church held their February meetings recently.

Members of Circle One met with Mrs. Willard Eichler. Hostesses with Mrs. Eichler were Mrs. Freer, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Pancoast, Mrs. Jack McDonald and Mrs. S. B. Burden.

Mrs. Otto Carmel read a poem when she opened the meeting of Circle Two at the home of Mrs. M. D. Bonsteel. The hostess was assisted in serving dessert by Mrs. Myrup, Mrs. W. B. Sisson and Mrs. John P. Schalk.

A piano number played by Mrs. Robert Moulton, and a story given by Mrs. Leo Smith, were program features for the meeting of Circle Three at the home of Mrs. Victor E. Huguenin.

Circle Four welcomed two new members, Mrs. John Gates and Mrs. J. A. Hughes, when the regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. G. E. Stinson. The cohostess was Mrs. W. W. Koppe.

Galion Pair Honored At Two Parties

Povenmires Feted By School Groups

GALION—Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Povenmire were entertained by the Classroom Teachers' association of Galion at a farewell dinner-party this week for the couple at the American Legion home.

There were 110 guests, including members of the CTA, the substitute teachers, retired teachers, school secretaries, custodians, wives and husbands of the group.

Attractive favors in keeping with the Valentine theme were made by pupils in the art classes of Mrs. F. A. W. Liddell. Table arrangements were supervised by Mrs. Kenneth Murphy. The dinner was prepared and served by a committee of the American Legion auxiliary.

An informal program following the dinner was presided over by Mrs. Mary Stokely, chairman of the social committee of the CTA. Group singing, with Mrs. Paul Gottfried at the piano, was led by Miss Lenore Bowdle.

This was followed with the presentation of a wrist watch to Povenmire, and a purse for Mrs. Povenmire. Presentation was made by Ora Tracht, president of the CTA, with responses by the honored couple. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and contests.

Povenmire resigned recently as superintendent of the Galion public schools to accept a position as principal of the Lakewood high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Povenmire also were honored guests at another party given this week at the home of Mrs. J. C. Shumaker by the school principals and their wives.

Legion Slates Joint Session

MT. GILEAD—A special Americanism program at the Legion home on Feb. 18, under the supervision of Nelson Campbell, Americanism chairman, was announced today by the T. P. Johnston Post No. 329.

State Representative J. Wesley Masters will speak and Mrs. Arthur Palmer, 12th district chairman of Columbus, has been scheduled for the joint meeting of the American Legion post and unit, which is open to all interested veterans.

Lafe Courtright, Legionnaire and county service officer, will be present to answer all questions pertinent to the payment of the Ohio soldiers' bonus.

Dut to inclement weather the Feb. 4 meeting was canceled and the report of the Legion's building committee will be held on March 3, according to Post Commander Charles Jackson.

Shelby Sorority Plans Initiation

SHELBY—Initiation for pledges of Lambda Chi Omega sorority will be held March 2 at Hotel Talbott in Galion.

Inspection of the chapter will take place Feb. 23 when the national vice president of the sorority will be present.

Open house will be held with Mrs. Walter Lendy after which a formal dinner party and inspection will be held at the Shelby Inn.

$6,000 Fire Hits Home

BUCYRUS—Fire starting near the furnace in the basement and spreading rapidly upward to the second floor caused damage estimated at $6,000 to the newly-purchased apartment residence of Mrs. Hazel Campbell here yesterday.

Mrs. Campbell was trapped in her second floor apartment of the four-apartment frame building as flames swept up the stairway to the second floor and was assisted from the burning building by firemen who placed a ladder at a second story window.

Wayne Clem, who worked with firemen for two hours in extinguishing the blaze, received a face and neck injury when he was struck by a board being torn from the building by another fireman.

Much of the furnishings in the four apartments were destroyed. Loss to the building was covered by insurance.

Church Council Elects

BUCYRUS — James Oberlander was elected to head the Bucyrus council of religious education when the council reorganized here this week. Other officers chosen for 1948 were Glen Berry, vice president; Mrs. Walter Brandt, secretary, and Charles Wiles, treasurer. Named to the budget committee for next year were Charles Wiles, Mrs. Raymond Bogan, Crosby Jamison, O. J. Cover and Clinton Luke.

Soviet Music 'Bourgeois'

MOSCOW —(AP)— The central committee of the Communist party has censured seven Russian composers, including Dmitri Shostakovich and Serge Prokofieff.

A party resolution spread across half of Pravda's front page this morning accused them of writing music which "follows the formalist trend—a trend against the people."

The resolution was sharply critical of "survivals of Bourgeois ideology nurtured by influence of the modern decadent music of western Europe and America."

Did You Say Charm?

Did you also say efficiency, comfortable, roomy, too? I know it must be a combination of all of these in a home of your choice. Alright then, I suggest that you call me about a 6 room new home located in delightful Marion avenue district. A delightfully large living room leads the procession of eye catching appeal of the rest of the rooms, next in line is the kitchen over which the most discriminating culinary artist would beam, there is a dining room too for your added comfort, there is an extra toilet and lavatory and 2 guest closets on first floor. For charm an open stairway leads the way to upper hall from which are 3 light and roomy bedrooms, one of these is a very large master bedroom with 2 recesses for vanity and dresser. Every room has plenty of closets. A full tile bath with linen cupboard climaxes the combination. A good deep basement with gas furnace means that any woman can keep house with a minimum of effort. We know you will like this so you better see it now. Priced at only $19,500.

Yes Ma'am!

There's a large, ultra-clean kitchen with a light, buoyant atmosphere for your working comfort; a pleasing arrangement of living room, dining room, kitchen, and cheerful sun room on first floor; 3 bedrooms and an unusual bath room. Light and roomy, that accentuates less cluttering and cleaning on second floor. You'll like the neighborhood very much.

Yes Sir!

You'll be interested in the sturdy way this home is built. You'll also be interested to find that everything is in good condition; and you're getting gas heat with a gas furnace that is only one year old. A two car garage with concrete floor and slag drive. A 50x120 ft. lot. Quiet surroundings. Located right next to South Park.

Yes Children!

You are protected from traffic here, and you have the huge park for the best playground possible just a few skips away. You'll have the proper environment too, and the school for this district will stimulate your desire to study.

AH -- I'LL OPEN A JAR OF BLONDIE'S HOMEMADE PICKLES FOR MY SANDWICH
UGH — UGH
OH... UGH
THE GUY WHO CALLED THEM THE "WEAKER SEX" NEVER HAD TO TAKE THE CAP OFF A JAR THEY SEALED

ORPHAN ANNIE

GAWS SAID HE DIDN'T KILL ANYBODY! HE'S INNOCENT! BUT HE CONFESSED! I HEARD HIM!
HE SAYS HE WAS FRAMED! FRAMED? HE TRIED TO FRAME JOE CHRISTMAS!
BUT HIS CONFESSION!
BALONEY! HE'S AS GUILTY AS CAIN!
YOU TAKE THAT BACK! I'LL...
GAWS SAYS IT WAS OBTAINED UNDER THREAT AND DURESS!
NOW...NOW...BOYS— FIGHTING PROVES NOTHING...
YOU KEEP OUT O' THIS!
ALL RIGHT—ALL RIGHT, BOYS—I DIDN'T MEAN ANYTHING...
YEAH! WE DON'T NEED NO ADVICE FROM NO "NEUTRAL"!

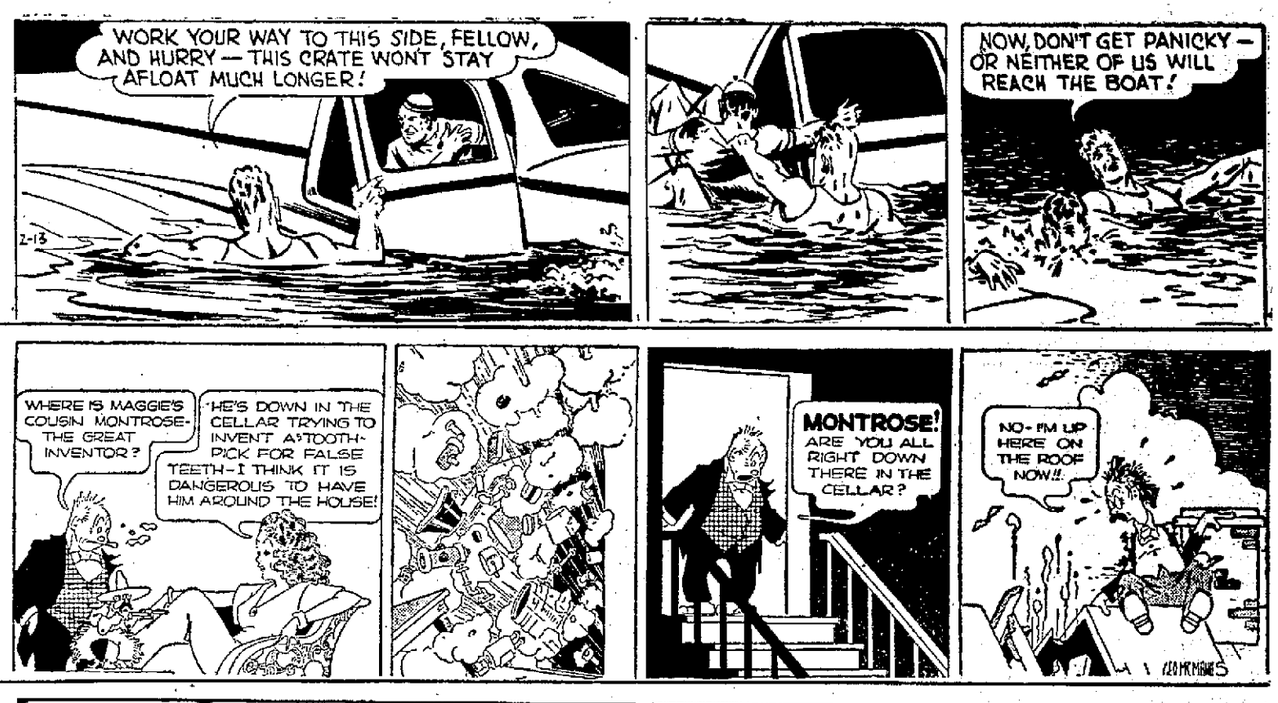
DICK TRACY

WE'D BETTER GET BACK, MISTER, AND WATCH FOR THE SQUAD CAR WHEN IT COMES DOWN THE GRAVEL ROAD.
THEY'VE FOUND IT! I'M IN A SPOT AGAIN! THINGS ARE HAPPENING. WHY HASN'T THAT WOMAN COME BACK?
MEANWHILE—A CAR OF ANCIENT VINTAGE, BEARING MISS VARNISH, RUMBLES ALONG TOWARD THE CENTURY SHOP—FOLLOWED AT SOME DISTANCE BY TWO SQUAD CARS.
IT'S GETTING DARK.
AND IN THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION, SEVERAL BOYS WAIT AND WATCH ANXIOUSLY FOR ANOTHER SQUAD THAT NEVER ARRIVES.
DID THE MAN MAKE THE CALL?
YES, WE STOOD BY THE PHONE WHILE HE TALKED TO THE COUNTY COPS.

LI'L ABNER

??—IT'S DAWN, LI'L ABNER!!— WHY HAIN'T YO SLEEPIN?
WHO KIN SLEEP—ON A NIGHT LIKE THIS!!—
FEARLESS FOSDICK IS PERSONALLY BODYGUARDIN TH' LEADIN' CANDY-DATE FO' PREZY-DUNT, MARMALUKE MINUET, IN A CONVENSHUN HALL, JAMMED WIF 25,000 POLLY-TISHUNS—AH DON'T KNOW WHY AH IS WORRYIN'!!
FOSDICK IS THE WORLD'S GREATEST DETECTIVE—TH' WORLD'S MOST FEARLESS HOOMIN BEAN—OH!! MINUET IS AS SAFE AS EF HE WAS IN HIS MAMMY'S ARMS—
GULP!!— MINUET IS DAID!!

BRICK BRADFORD

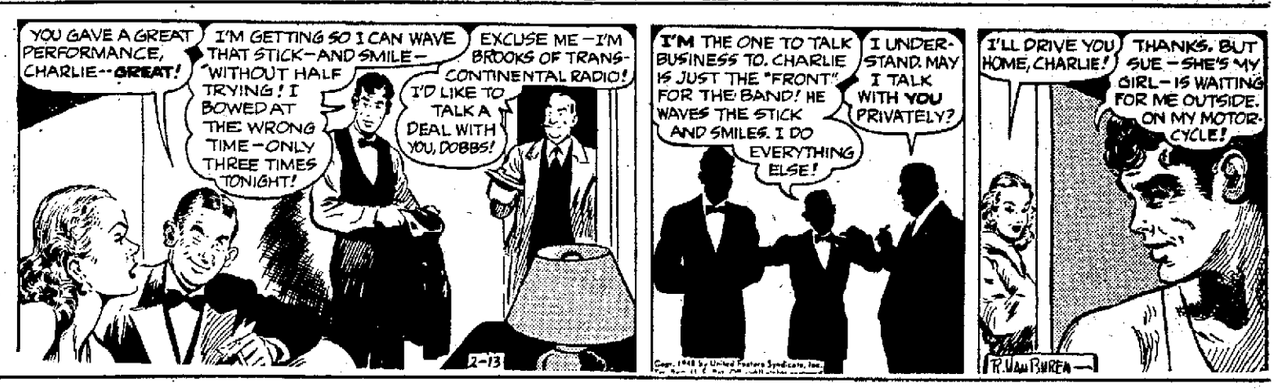


WORK YOUR WAY TO THIS SIDE, FELLOW, AND HURRY — THIS CRATE WON'T STAY AFLOAT MUCH LONGER!
NOW, DON'T GET PANICKY — OR NEITHER OF US WILL REACH THE BOAT!

JIGGS

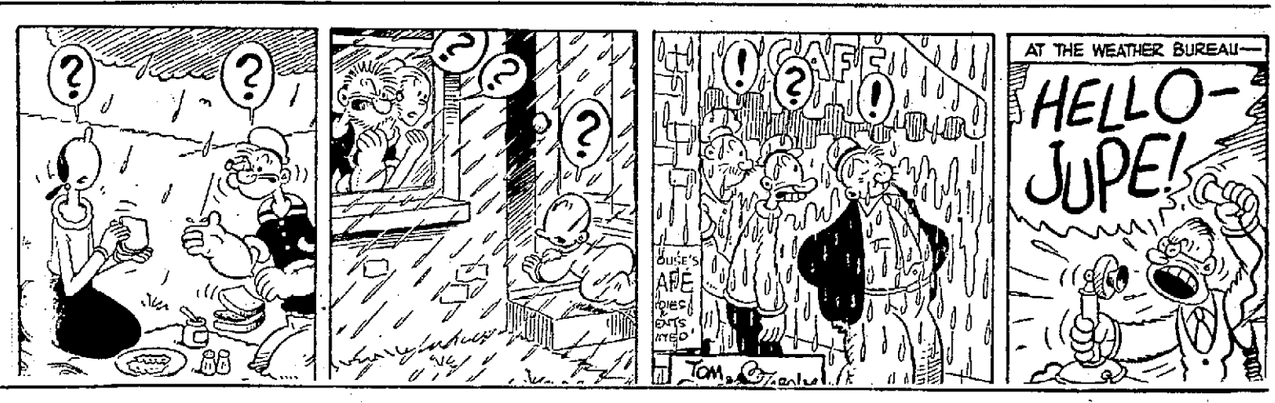
WHERE IS MAGGIE'S COUSIN MONTROSE—THE GREAT INVENTOR?
HE'S DOWN IN THE CELLAR TRYING TO INVENT A TOOTH-PICK FOR FALSE TEETH—I THINK IT IS DANGEROUS TO HAVE HIM AROUND THE HOUSE!
MONTROSE! ARE YOU ALL RIGHT DOWN THERE IN THE CELLAR?
NO—I'M UP HERE ON THE ROOF NOW!!

ABBIE AND SLATS



YOU GAVE A GREAT PERFORMANCE, CHARLIE—GREAT!
I'M GETTING SO I CAN WAVE THAT STICK—AND SMILE—"WITHOUT HALF TRYING! I BOWED AT THE WRONG TIME—ONLY THREE TIMES TONIGHT!
EXCUSE ME—I'M BROOKS OF TRANS-CONTINENTAL RADIO! I'D LIKE TO TALK A DEAL WITH YOU, DOBBS!
I'M THE ONE TO TALK BUSINESS TO. CHARLIE IS JUST THE "FRONT" FOR THE BAND! HE WAVES THE STICK AND SMILES. I DO EVERYTHING ELSE!
I UNDERSTAND. MAY I TALK WITH YOU PRIVATELY?
I'LL DRIVE YOU HOME, CHARLIE!
THANKS, BUT SUE—SHE'S MY GIRL—IS WAITING FOR ME OUTSIDE. ON MY MOTORCYCLE!

POPEYE



THE NEBBS

PERHAPS BROWN DREAMED THAT SOMEBODY SWITCHED PLANS WITH HIM
WELL, HE HAS THE AUTHENTIC PLANS AND THAT'S THE IMPORTANT THING
WOULD THE PRELIMINARY EQUIPMENT PLANS DISCLOSE OUR SECRET?
I DOUBT IT—RADICAL CHANGES IN INTERIOR DESIGN MAKE THEM WORTHLESS!
JUST THE SAME SOMEBODY IS UP TO MONKEY-BUSINESS AND I'D LIKE TO KNOW WHO WILBUR MAY KNOW
SHOULD WE TAKE HIM INTO OUR CONFIDENCE?
I WISH HE'D TAKE US INTO HIS!
